recently ended congressional session.

A post-session issue of the Congressional Record showed that the Senate met 186 days from Jan. 7 through Oct. 12 — 38 days more than the 148 days the House was in session.

The Senate was in session 1,356 hours, more than twice the 634 hours chalked up by the House.

The Senate totals were swelled by a filibuster over the new Civil Rights Act and a less arduous talk about legislative redistricting decisions of the Supreme Court.

Of the 382 public laws enacted this year, 278 originated in the House and only 104 in the Senate. On private bills, 147 were House measures while 38 began in the Senate.

Former Integration Foe Lives Quietly in South

BY BILLY BOWLES

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — John Kasper, once the symbol of defiance to integration, now lives quietly in this Southern city that prides itself on its amicable race relations.

Except for the fact he is a candidate for president of the United States, he leads a quiet life. His views are unchanged.

Now Kasper attends to his but in his own words he struck a wall on the integration issue.

Kasper, 34, insists he has not given up the fight but adds that "any man who runs his head against a wall three times without moving the wall one inch would not be courageous or heroic to do the same thing a fourth time. He ought to start looking for a gate, or a ladder to climb over."

Federal Prison

Kasper twice landed in federal prison for urging citizens of Clinton, Tenn., to resist school integration in 1956. Similar activities when schools were integrated in 1956 landed him in the county jail.

Now Kasper attends to his but in his own words he struck a wall on the integration issue.

Kasper did not attend the national States Rights party convention which nominated him for president, and says he has given strong consideration to withdrawing his candidacy.

A supporter of Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, Kasper says "If I didn't think it would have a detrimental effect, I would go out and make some talks for Goldwater."

Bookstore Operator The John Kasper of 1964 is a case study in ironies. In settling in Nashville, he chose a city that rejected his preachments and put him in jail in his choice.

Kasper says he neither seeks a nor shuns public notice. He retains his views on what he gets the government to change the Constitution.

He considers the evils of integration and talks freely about them.

When racial violence flared briefly here last year and early this year, Kasper lent no support to the few businessmen who held out unsuccessfully against integration.

A man who wielded the first time in the Clinton, Tenn., fight was for adherence to the Constitution, Kasper says.

He says he does not belong to organizations that would seem to share his views, although he once organized a White Citizens Council.

Correct Then

His actions here and at Clinton "were correct at the time," he says. "People were doing a lot of talking, but nobody was doing anything. I think my tactics were okay. Even if no one else understands the meaning of what I did, to my own satisfaction I was able to expose the iron hand in the velvet glove which the federal government wielded for the first time in the Clinton, Tenn., fight."

Barry's Talk Bolsters State GOP Workers

date to win the state since Harry Truman in 1948.

Some local and state ticket candidates have been disturbed by the possibility that the impact of a Johnson vote majority will hurt them.

Last night's Goldwater rally attendance and its spontaneous enthusiasm, obviously lifted the spirit of the disturbed Republican campaign machine.

Peterson Happy

Talbot Peterson, Appleton, Republican state chairman, beamed happily as he recounted the tabulation of reports from his district chairmen which showed a bigger working Republican organization than the party ever has mustered before.

"We heard nothing but encouragement," he said.

Peterson said the party will raise more money than ever before, but he hastened to explain that the cost of campaign work also is greater than ever before.

Like other Republicans, he said Democrats also have been more successful in attracting campaign contributors, so that the Republicans have not improved their relative ability to buy promotion and other campaign services.

To some local Republican campaigners in the Goldwater audience the "freedom from government" theme of his national broadcast speech might have had a doubtful ring.

Prefer Moderates

Wisconsin Republicans generally prefer a more moderate approach to the issues than that espoused by their national ticket leader.

Wilbur Renk, the U. S. Senate nominee, for example, has been known during his career as a sort of a reverse whistle-stop Republican liberal. Like others on his ticket, Renk believes the Republican must run ahead of Goldwater, according to all the evidence thus far at hand, to win his campaign.

In that analysis they agree with most Wisconsin Democrats, who feel they will be aided by the strong appeal of President Johnson at the head of their ticket.

Whether President Johnson will touch ground in Wisconsin in his whirlwind campaign tour of the country is not yet known definitely, but until he does, the Republican pep meeting here last night will rank as the most successful of its kind in the state thus far this season.

Negro Leader Wins Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (AP)—American Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. was today awarded the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize.

The prize for the Georgia-born leader of the civil rights fight in the United States will amount to 273,000 Swedish Kroner—$53,123—this year.

The 35-year-old president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was the 12th American to be awarded the prize. In addition, the American Friends Service Committee got it once.

The prize was awarded by the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament.

Chairman of the committee is Director Gunnar Jahn. Vice chairman is Dean G. Natvig-Pedersen.

Others are Mrs. Aase Wind Ljunas, Socialist member of Parliament; Nils Langhelle, Socialist president of Parliament; and John Lyng, Conservative floor leader and governor of the province of Akershus.

20,000 to Train in Military Exercise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said Tuesday that some 20,000 men will participate in a training exercise starting this month over some two million acres generally south of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Purpose of the exercise, dubbed Goldfire I, is to test an echeloned congress opening Nov. 10, the press office declared, the effectiveness of joint Army-Air Force operations. It is part of State there is no confirmation of such a trip.

Socialism, Communism Target of Goldwater

The Goldwater rally was also sort of a reverse whistle-stop. Instead of having the candidate coming to their town, the Republicans traveled to Milwaukee on two special trains which started in Green Bay.

One picked up passengers in Kaukauna, Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and West Bend. The other stopped in Manitowoc and Sheboygan.

There were a few commuter-train-type card games on the way, but most passengers talked politics. Here and there, singing of anti-President Johnson songs broke out as time was used in preparing signs for the rally.

More than one-third of the passengers were high school students, including about 60 from six Green Bay area schools. Many of them with "If I were 21, I'd vote for Goldwater" buttons.

Favorite Son

The Fox Valley also had one of its leading Republican spokesmen, Rep. John Byrnes, chosen to introduce Goldwater. Byrnes was presented to the rally as "Wisconsin's favorite son" by Daniel Parker, Janesville, state GOP finance chairman.

Only the first few minutes of the rally as Goldwater and his wife, Peggy, entered the arena

Another Catholic World Assembly Is Being Sought

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pressure mounted in the Vatican Ecumenical Council today for a fourth session of the worldwide assembly of Roman Catholic prelates next year.

Progressives have been opposing the conservative drive for a quick ending of the session.

For the first time, a bishop rose in the council meeting hall in St. Peter's and insisted on a further session to avoid hasty consideration of still pending matters.

The prelate, Archbishop Fernando Gomes dos Santos of Goiania, Brazil, was applauded in a demonstration that indicated a vast number of the 2,500 prelates agreed with him.

Council press spokesmen, reporting the closed proceedings, said the day's presiding officer, Gregory Peter Cardinal Azzagiani, had to rap for order. Such demonstrations are rare in the council hall.

Pope to Visit Monte Cassino

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI today scheduled a trip to the famed Benedictine Abbey at Monte Cassino, but apparently remained undecided on a much longer journey to India.

The Vatican press office announced that he would go to the Monte Cassino on Oct. 24. The trip is for the formal inauguration of the abbey, rebuilt after its destruction in World War II, in a training exercise starting this month over some two million acres generally south of Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Purpose of the exercise, dubbed Goldfire I, is to test an echeloned congress opening Nov. 10, the press office declared, the effectiveness of joint Army-Air Force operations. It is part of State there is no confirmation of such a trip.

Goldwater TV Stint Limited

of the telecast was limited to his introduction at the rally by Rep. John W. Byrnes, Eighth District congressman from Green Bay.

Contacted this morning at the Pfister Hotel in Milwaukee, state GOP Chairman Talbot Peterson of Appleton offered an explanation.

"In this area," Peterson said, "the program was shown at 8:30 p.m., but the senator actually spoke at 7:30 and it was shown live in the East."

Without Knowledge

"Without the knowledge of the Goldwater Committee of Wisconsin, without the knowledge of the Republican Party of Wisconsin and without the knowledge of any of the news media in Wisconsin, including the Appleton Post-Crescent, a last minute decision was made by the national campaign committee to show only the opening portion of the rally."

"Wisconsin party officials did not learn of this," Peterson said, "until after the program was completed."

"The explanation given this morning at the Milwaukee airport by Dennis Mitchell, Goldwater's campaign manager, to myself and to the press was that the enthusiasm of the crowd in the Arena and the Auditorium would have resulted in interruptions during the senator's speech with applause and cheers to such an extent that the half hour program would have been nothing but a show of enthusiastic crowd reaction."

"So," Peterson explained, "Mitchell limited the live portion to Goldwater's introduction and the tremendous welcome he received."

The half-hour program was carried in the Valley area by Green Bay station WFRV-TV (Channel 5).

Lee Browning, manager of WFRV-TV, Channel 5, which carried the program in a delayed broadcast at 8:30 p.m., said station officials were not aware of pending changes in the broadcast format.

Episcopalians Absolve Jews Of 'Deicide'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—In one of the bluntest proclamations of its kind, a major church was on record today as repudiating any special blaming of Jews, now or in the past, for Christ's crucifixion.

The action, taken by the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, dealt with an issue that has locked Roman Catholicism's second Vatican council in prolonged discussion.

"The charge of deicide against the Jews is a tragic misunderstanding of the inner significance of the crucifixion," the Episcopal bishops declared. Deicide means "killing of God."

"Furthermore, in the dimension of faith, the Christian understands that all men are guilty of the death of Christ, for all have in some manner denied him," the bishops said.

This is standard Christian doctrine, but throughout the history of the faith, popular thinking and much church literature often has tended to point an accusing finger at Jews for Christ's death.

"Since the sins that crucified Christ were common human sins, the Christian knows that he himself is guilty," the bishops said.

They also pointed out that "Jesus was a Jew, and since the Christian church is rooted in Israel, spiritually we are Semites."

Flood Waters Recede In North Carolina

KINSTON, N.C. (AP)—Flood waters of the Neuse River receded today along a 50-mile stretch and officials estimated it would take three to five days for the river to return to its normal levels.

The flooding has done millions of dollars in damages, according to Gov. Terry Sanford. He Monday to declare the six-county section a disaster area.

Perhaps 6,000 to 7,000 persons were driven from their homes from Smithfield to Goldsboro and Kinston.

Outagamie Will Provide Airline With Building

North Central to Get Steel Structure as Temporary Terminal

Outagamie County will provide a prefabricated steel building to North Central Airlines for use as a temporary terminal at the new Outagamie County Airport.

Plans to let bids for the building, at a cost not to exceed $20,000, were approved Tuesday afternoon by the county board.

Supv. Mark Catlin (Appleton 7), airport committee chairman, said a terminal is needed at the airport for North Central in order to transfer the covenant of the old airport and to make the new facility operational as soon as possible.

The building, which will be 2,000 square feet, will be located at the south end of where the permanent terminal will be located.

Airport Operations

Also holding up the covenant and causing a delay in making the airport operational is Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) landing restrictions. Catlin said, however, restrictions are expected to be eased soon due to pressure being put on the FAA by North Central by the Airline Pilots Association.

Catlin also reported to the county board on the financial status of the airport construction.

He said expenditures as of Oct. 1, plus an estimate of future expenses, will bring over all cost of the airport to $3,863,460, or $63,460 more than the original estimate.

Top Estimates

He said costs surpassed estimates in soil-moving and in engineering supervisory expenses.

However, Catlin pointed out as matters now stand, the county will have $208,540 over the original $2.8 million bond issue.

In addition to the $2.8 million bond issue, sale of the old airport is expected to raise $500,000. Because of approval by the Wisconsin State Aeronautics Commission of state and federal aid for various land purchases and construction expenses, another $772,000 is expected. The $772,000 plus the original bond issue and the old airport money would make a total of $4,072,000, or $208,540 more than is needed.

Appleton May Raise Police Clothing Fund

A boost in the clothing allowance of Appleton policemen was recommended Tuesday night.

The common council's public safety committee took the action after hearing Police Chief Earl O. Wolff.

Subject to council approval, it was recommended the initial clothing allowance given new men be raised from $175 to $230 a year.

And, the annual clothing allowance would be hiked from $75 to $100.

Wolff claimed clothing of police officers gets considerable wear and tear.

The committee also recommended — Tetanus booster shots be administered to firemen at city expense.

— A 50 mph speed limit on Northland Avenue from a point ½ mile east of ½ mile west of Meade Street to coincide with the Town of Grand Chute speed limit in the area.

— Parking be prohibited on the south side of Washington Street, and on the east side of Appleton from Washington to the College Avenue.

Grand Chute Officials Irked by Home Owner

A property owner's construction project in the Town of Grand Chute has raised the ire of town officials who label it a safety hazard and nuisance ditch runs 75 feet.

Bast has placed a snow fence around half of the ditch and another side. He posted the area owner of property on Casa Loma Drive where a home is under construction.

Officials will ask in a court hearing Friday in Outagamie County Court Branch 3 that a Jr., denied the project repudied dug beside the house sends a safety hazard and said which Town Attorney Donald Bast has complied with requests Herring said is to be a "fish pond" be filled in.

Herring said complaints from residents in the area indicate and that the ditch was formed many children have been playing in the area and, according to Herring, residents are concerned that children may fall into the water-filled ditch.

Outagamie Efficiency Study Is Referred to Committee

County Supervisors Appoint Special Unit to Evaluate Survey

No action will be taken for at least one month on recommendations made in the J. L. Jacobs Co. efficiency study of Outagamie County government operations.

After spending most of Tuesday's county board session discussing various facets of the report dealing with salaries and jobs evaluations and a management efficiency survey, the report was referred to a special committee.

Supervisors argued several areas of the study and voiced doubts about how effectively they could be implemented. The committee which will study the report is the county board's special 11-man informational committee which includes members from each of the 18 standing committees and county board chairman.

The committee is to make recommendations on implementation of the study made by the Chicago government consulting firm. They are to report back at the Nov. 10 meeting with their recommendations on implementation and on the order of priority for the plan.

In another action Tuesday the board voted 39 to 11 in favor of

Sergeant Appointment In Traffic Department Debated Before Board

Use of Tests for Promotions Stirs Supervisors' Controversy

Appointment of William Block as sergeant on the Outagamie promotion.

County Traffic patrol was challenged at today's Outagamie County Board session by the civil service and salary committee chairman, said, "Maybe the guy who wrote the test isn't half as good as the others."

The committee asked the board to rescind Block's appointment to the sergeant's job made last month by Capt. Ronald Decker of the traffic patrol.

Recommend Officer

In addition, the committee recommended that Patrolman Orville Crane, who received the only passing grade on the civil service tests given for the position, be given the appointment by the county board.

After heated debate, charges and counter-charges, the resolutions were referred to the traffic police committee.

The amendment which sent the resolution to the traffic police committee contained explicit instruction that it be reported back at the November county board session when it will be acted on.

Supv. John Schreiter (Appleton 6), civil service committee chairman, told the board eight applicants were tested for the vacancy created by the death of Sgt. George Elise Aug. 8. He said Crane was the only man who passed the civil service test.

Asks Support

Schreiter said "every effort was made by us to resolve this difference in a gentlemanly manner, but if qualifications and merit are to become disregarded, the purpose of our committee is being taken away and weakened."

"Without your support," Schreiter told the board, "the action taken by Capt. Decker and the approval by the traffic police committee will destroy the purpose and the usefulness of our committee."

Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath said Rule No. 7 of the county board, in his opinion, provides that promotions within a department can be made without consent of the civil service and salary committee. "It was a promotion from within the ranks," Ponath said, "so the tests were not necessary."

Schreiter disagreed. He said legal advice he received gives him the opinion that Rule No. 7 to work in a beer depot made him the only man to appointments by Carl Ann Dietz, 121 Broad St., Menasha.

He said Block came from within the ranks of the department.

County Supervisor Suggests Hospital Land Gift to UW

Land which now is being used for farming at the Outagamie County hospital near U.S. 41 and 10 should be donated to the University of Wisconsin and a four-year college should be built there, a county supervisor has suggested.

Supv. Sylvester Esler, Appleton 18th, said the possibility of taking the suggestion to the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors was discussed last week among supervisor members of the county's property and insurance committee.

Esler said that if the board approved such a move, the suggestion could be promoted by the Appletion Chamber of Commerce "or some other promotional group" and the proposition could be presented to the university board of regents.

There is approximately 400 acres of land now being used for farming in the area, Esler said, and the site would be ideal for a hospital and a college.

Supervisors have discussed abandoning the farm operation at the hospital and placing the acreage up for sale.

KAUKAUNA—The board of education Tuesday approved a 1965 amount to $296,681, an increase of $1,365,139, over the 1964 school budget of $60,263 over the 1964 including expenditures of $1,174,728 for operating costs and $190,410 for debt service.

Budget Breakdown

The total tax levy requested for the district is $1,068,458. This includes $878,047 for operating expenses and $190,410 for debt retirement. The budget must be approved by the Kaukauna city council and town boards in the district.

Kaukauna residents will pay a total of $821,563 of the school district levy, including $677,618 of the operating levy and $143,945 of the debt service levy. This represents an increase of $87,754 over the 1964 levy for the year. Based on last year's tax rate of $49 per $1,000 the increase in levy would require slightly more than $3,000 increase in taxes.

Other Communities

Tax levy for the Town of Harrison would increase $4,398 from $62,854 to $67,252. By the proposed budget Town of Buchanan levy would increase $689 to $57,931. Town of Vandenberg levy would increase $384 to $41,637. Town of Kaukauna would increase $185 to $11,860 and Village of Little Chute levy would increase $938 to $15,697.

Town of Woodville would have a $366 decrease from $22,344 to $21,977 and Town of Holland would have a $297 decrease from $21,634 to $21,337. Total district tax levy increase from 1964 to 1965 is $893,686, from $971,771 to $1,068,458. Receipts other

Fox Cities System Engineering, Survey Costs Unanimously OK'd

Conditional approval for surveying and engineering costs for the proposed Fox Cities expressway system was approved unanimously today by the Outagamie County Board.

Outagamie's share of the $18,300 survey and engineering cost would be $5,500. The cost was divided proportionately by area between Outagamie, Winnebago and Calumet counties.

The board approved its payment of the cost contingent upon approval of payment of the cost shares by the Winnebago and Calumet boards. The Valley Regional Planning Commission, which had required the proposed expressway route, made the survey-engineering cost estimate for the board.

Eugene Franchette, commission director, spoke to the board on the expressway project and showed slides on land usage.

Night Fight

Menasha Youth Injured in Clash Involving 14 Juveniles in Appleton

A Menasha youth is being treated at Treda Clark Hospital for injuries he received Tuesday night in a street clash in Appleton between seven Appleton youths and seven from Menasha.

Police said the injured youth is Dale Frank, 17, 724 Sixth St. He was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by Larry's Ambulance Service, then transferred today to the Neenah hospital.

Police Tuesday night questioned all 14 of the youths involved in the fracas which began on a lonely Winnebago County road and ended in a street brawl on S. Oneida at E. South River streets about 8:30 p.m.

Brawl Started

The brawl started when the Appleton car came upon the Menasha car parked at the side of

Oshkosh Paper Head Leaves $272,904 Estate

OSHKOSH—An inventory filed today with County Judge Herbert J. Mueller placed the value of the estate of the late R. M. kosh Paper Co., at $272,904. Of this amount, $239,446 is in personal property and $22,360 is jointly-owned property.

The Menasha youths were living a flat tire. Police said that tire tools, a chair, a wooden table leg and a piece of pipe were used in the fight. The weapons were thrown into the Fox River when police arrived at the scene.

Youths questioned said that the two carloads of youths exchanged words while both were driving around on a road near Menasha. One youth told police the words were exchanged after the Appleton youths teased the Menasha youths about the car they were driving.

Fixing Tire

Later, while the Menasha youths were fixing the tire, the Appleton car appeared again. Words were exchanged and the fight broke out. It was not learned immediately who struck Frank, but police said Frank was thrown to the ground and killed. He received back injuries.

One other youth told police he was held against a car fender and hit. He said he "blacked out" momentarily.

One Menasha youth hailed a passing squad car and an ambulance was called to take him to the hospital. Other youths quickly rounded up the others involved in the fight, and they were taken to police headquarters for questioning by detectives. None of the youths was held overnight and an investigation is continuing.

Outagamie Board Election Hearing Set for Nov. 9

Action by the Outagamie County Board today set the time of its annual November budget hearing session at 9:30 a.m., Monday, Nov. 9.

Traditionally, the usual week-long November county board session which sets up and approves the 1964 budget begins on the first Monday of November.

However, due to election fall-out on Nov. 3 County Board and Chairman Alvin Fulcer requested and received board consent to set the meeting back to the second Monday so their meeting could be conducted without interruption.

Civil Rights Law Upheld at Oshkosh

UW Professor Defends Act At Discussion

Oshkosh — Prof. David Fellman, law and the enforcement of man of the University of Wisconsin Law School defended the constitutionality of the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act during a Fellman said, has its legality panel discussion presented by the Governor's Commission on Human Rights at Wisconsin State University Tuesday afternoon.

Some restaurants, he cited, while not mentioning President Barry Goldwater, saying they do not serve interstate travelers and thus hope to avoid prosecution for barring issue with the candidate for his Negroes. "But I would like to see the restaurant that does not serve people from other states in accommodations section to be unconstitutional."

Prof. Fellman said Wisconsin has had such provisions for its relation to Wisconsin law as many years. Enforcement of the part of a day-long program of law is through the courts since the governor's commission the national act does not create which held a regional meeting any administrative agency for at the university's Reeve Memorial enforcement, he said.

Dr. G. Audrey Young, director of the governor's commission, said the purpose of the law is not to legislate morals but to provide a basis "on which we can proceed against injustice."

5 Architects Vie for School Design Job

Kaukauna Educators Limit Selection to Fox Valley Firms

KAUKAUNA — Five architectural firms will be interviewed as possible designers of a proposed elementary school building the board of education decided Tuesday.

Interviews will be arranged for a special Oct. 27 meeting with Paul Hallbeck and Associates, Appleton and Eau Claire; George Narovec, Appleton; Sauter and Seaborn, Appleton; Schuette, Phillips and Mochon, Appleton and Milwaukee; and Edgar Stuebenrok, Sheboygan.

Earlier the board had agreed to a Fox Valley firm and from the list of applicants narrowed the choice to five. Preliminary planning for the school, expected to be ready for 1966-67 school year, indicated as many as from 25 to 28 classrooms would be necessary, according to Julian Bichler, superintendent of schools.

Permission was given to the use of Nicolet gym by the Outagamie County Teachers College basketball team at a price of $3 per practice session. Regular games scheduled for Sundays will be considered separately and a different rental rate established.

A letter was read from Edward Bankert, clerk of the Town of Vandenberg, expressing appreciation to the board for its efforts in attempting to keep libraries in the county available to rural users. Earlier this month the board requested the county to continue library aid as not to penalize rural users.

Marshall Bayorgeon was named delegate to the annual school board conference at Milwaukee with Richard Eslien named alternate. The superintendent of schools was instructed to advertise for bids on a new piano for Harrison School.

Plans were made to meet with the Kaukauna council Nov. 4 to discuss the 1965 school budget and approval was given to the use of school facilities Oct. 26 for a meeting of people in the area who are working on school lunch programs. A representative of the state department of public instruction is expected to meet with about 35 school lunch people to discuss the program from the local, state and federal levels.

First Mass Offered in New Church Quarters at St. Bernadette School

Appleton Parish to Use School Gym Until New Building Erected; Open House Sunday

St. Bernadette Catholic Parish is moving this week into its temporary church facilities in Father McKinnon said the building will be left on the site of its new school, unless it is purchased and moved. The first masses were said in the church this morning, and all interested in buying it, he said, daily and Sunday masses will be said there now.

Following the first Sunday masses there this coming Sunday, parishioners will tour the school and have breakfast in the cafeteria. An open house in the school is planned for the general public from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The following Sunday, Oct. 25, which is the Feast of Christ the King, the Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Bona, Bishop of the Green Bay Diocese, will lay the cornerstone for the school and dedicate and bless the school, convent and rectory.

The ceremonies will start at 3:30 p.m. and conclude with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the church at dinner in the school cafeteria for visiting clergy and invited guests will follow.

Quonset Building
The future gymnasium will be the second temporary church for St. Bernadette Parish. Church services have been held in a quonset building at 1513 E. Cass St. since the parish was established in 1950 through a division of Sacred Heart Parish.

Parishioners are moving equipment from the quonset building to the new church this week and next. Altars, pews, Stations of the Cross, confessionals and other items are being moved. The organ was moved this morning and used for the second mass.

Leave on Site
The property on which the quonset building was set was leased by the parish. The parish had considered keeping the building as a parish center, but the land proved to be too expensive.

Supermarket Addition To Cost About $4,000
KAUKAUNA—A building permit for an addition to a supermarket was issued to Norman Weigman, 617 Hendricks Ave., by Eugene Ditter, building inspector.

Ground to be Broken Today For New Chapel

Mormon Official to Lead Ceremonies for $30,000 Addition

Groundbreaking ceremonies for a $30,000 addition to the chapel of the Appleton branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints will be held at 6 p.m. today.

E. A. Nadle, Chicago, the church's mission president in charge of Wisconsin Illinois and Michigan, will take part in the ceremony.

Other participants will be Burt McClurg, president of the Appleton branch, and Glen Reed Jr., second counselor to the Appleton president.

A dinner for the congregation will follow the groundbreaking ceremonies.

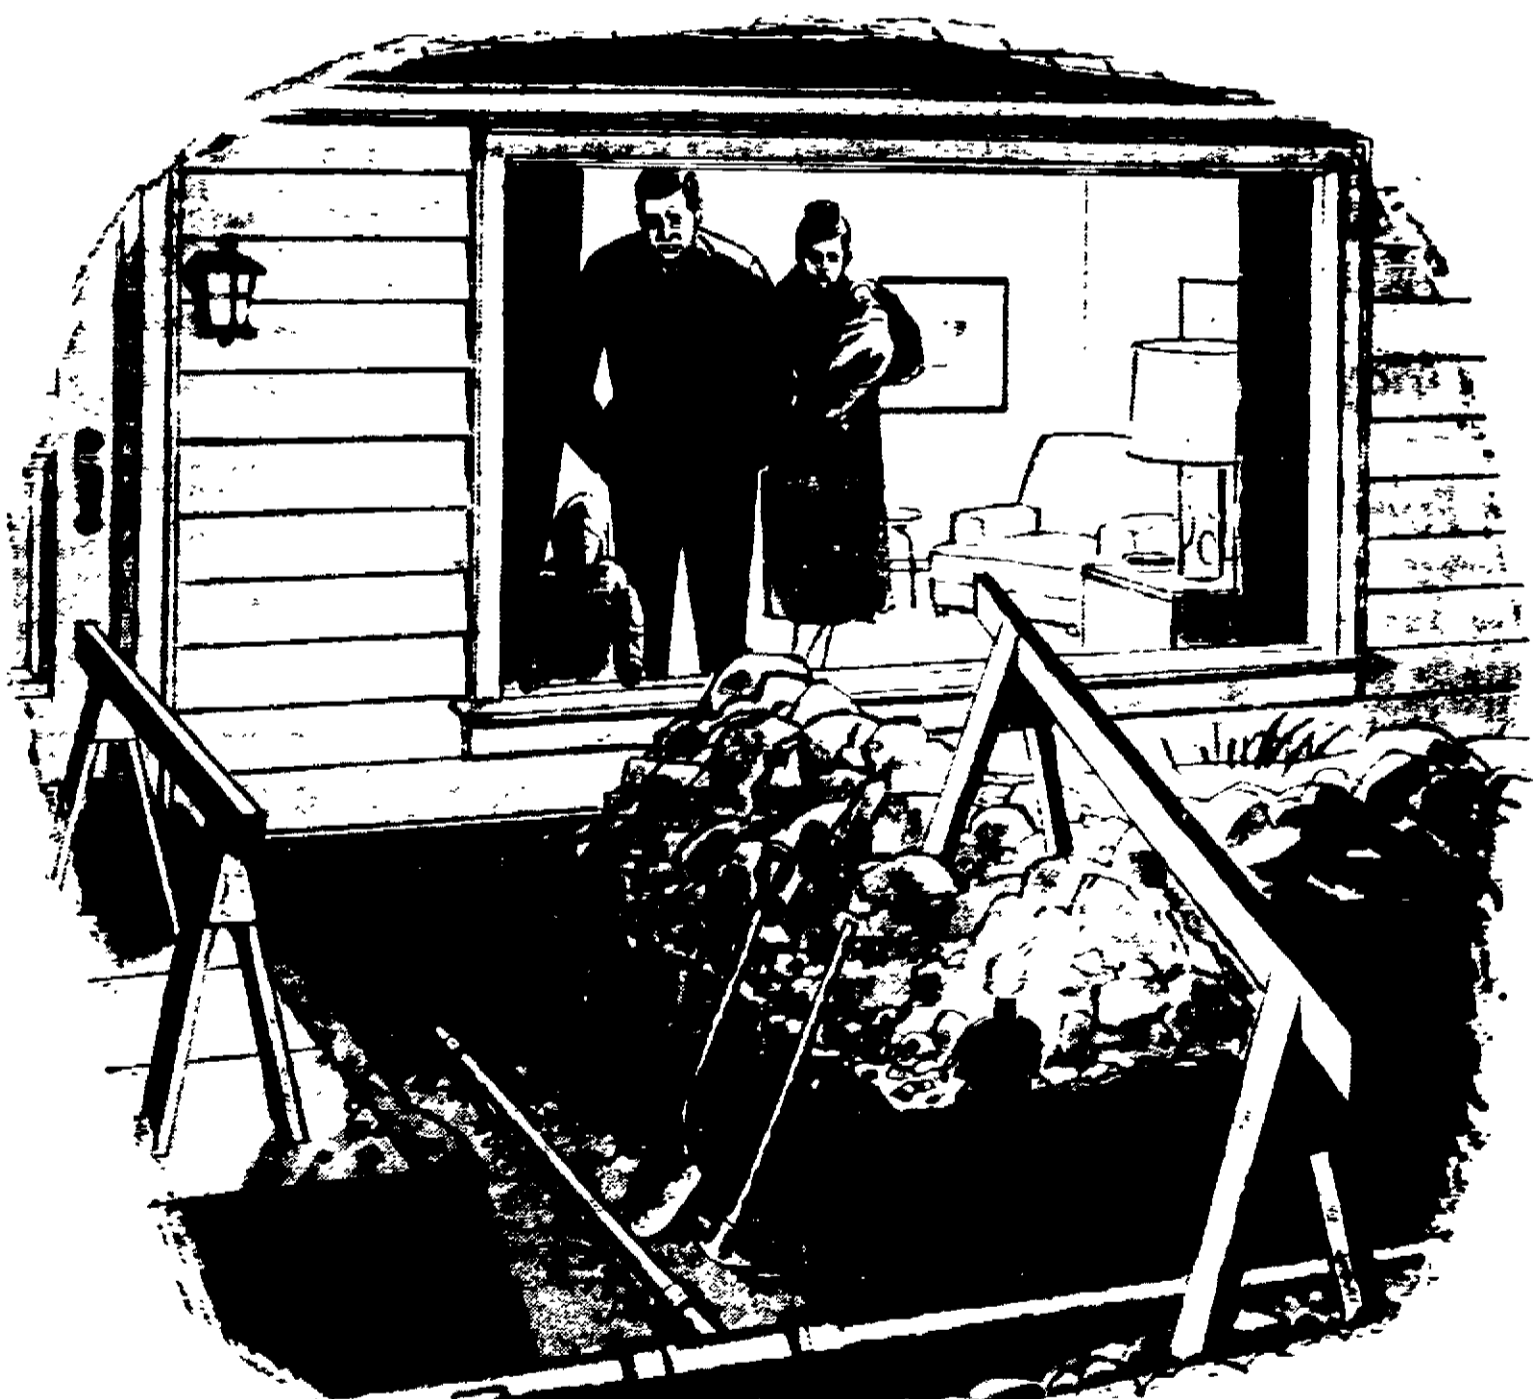

Work will start immediately on the addition, which will form the crossbar of a "T" to the present rectangular chapel. The addition is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The addition is needed because the church has outgrown its present facilities, completed about two years ago, Reed said.

The addition will have a large main assembly area, which will seat about 200 for worship. It is about double the size of the present assembly area, which seats 100.

Folding partitions will be installed in the new assembly area so it can be divided into classrooms.

Remodeling also is planned in the present building, which has a kitchen, a large assembly area, kitchen and classrooms. The assembly area will be divided into offices and classrooms.

"Party-line" fuel can leave you cold!

It's true. "Party-line" fuel, such as natural gas, is subject to pressure drops during severe cold weather. Result? Inadequate fuel supply for your home, unhealthy chilling temperatures when you need warmth the most! Your health and comfort are totally dependent on a single slender pipeline—one company, one source of supply. But not with oil! With oil you have up to 30 days' supply stored safely on your property. And you have a number of dealers to supply you — each one of whom has great oil reserves. Keep this in mind too: modern oil-fired heating systems produce 40% more heat power per unit than other "automatic" systems. Reason? Your oil furnace burns a mixture of oil and air under pressure — much like a mighty jet aircraft engine. Result? More heat comfort for your money!

Construction of a shelter by the city finance director's office. While comparison of the proposed budget with the one adopted for 1964 has been complicated by the new system, the 1965 budget of $236,943, adopted Tuesday, presents a decrease in operational costs.

The budget forwarded to city hall by unanimous vote of the commissioners calls for a levy of $232,593.

Press Club Poll Picks Lyndon Johnson

Newsmen Indicate President's Win in November Landslide

If members of the Fox Valley-Lake Shore Press Club reflect the views of voters in the north-central Wisconsin area, there may be a Democratic landslide on Nov. 3.

Editors and writers from six member newspapers were polled in the presidential, senatorial and gubernatorial races during their meeting Tuesday night at the Town and Country Club in Sheboygan.

On the presidential race, 31 newsmen said they would vote for President Lyndon Johnson while nine would support Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican. On the same race, 38 said they think Johnson will win, while five said Goldwater.

Prefer Proxmire

On the U. S. Senate election, the personal preference vote was 24 to 16 in favor of Sen. William Proxmire over the Republican, Wilbur Reink. Only Members unanimously accepted eight thought Reink would win the race, while 35 gave the nod to Proxmire.

The members who voted were Appleton Post-Crescent, Manitowish Waters Herald, Green Bay Press-Gazette, Fond du Lac Democrat, John Bay Commonwealth, Reporter Reynolds would defeat Warren and the Sheboygan Press.

Major Categories

Three major categories are: general operation of the park department, $136,823; administration, office expense and supplies, $18,075; and tree planting program, $82,044.

Under the new budgeting system, Reid Municipal Golf course will operate on a sustaining basis with no tax levy required. It is estimated the cost of 1965 operations will be $46,080.

Another self-supporting operation will be the city's weed-cutting program estimated to cost $19,528.

Commissioners said the proposed $15,000 shelter house at Schaefer Park should be a must next year.

They also claimed the new tree-trimming equipment would lower labor costs by about $10,000.

amounted to $94,500 compared to $103,295 anticipated in 1965 while county aid is expected to increase from $12,250 to $13,300, for elementary school site. Neither were included last year.

Cost of educating and training the handicapped in 1964 was $20,060 compared to $24,685 in 1965.

State aid received in 1964 amounted to $103,295 compared to $113,736 in 1965. Receipts from student publications were held at $1,200 as were vocational school fuel payments at $2,700. WIAA insurance receipts were increased from $450 in 1964 to $500 in 1965. School lunch receipts increased from $66,930 to $77,768 and utility tax receipts increased from $13,500 to $22,900.

Percentage Figures

Percentage breakdown shows 68.4 per cent of the total budget for instructional costs, 9.4 for operation of plant, 6.8 for auxiliary services, 2.3 for general control, 1.7 for maintenance, 2.2 for other disbursements, 3.6 for transportation, 3.5 for capital outlay and 2.1 for handicapped classes.

District tax levy accounts for 74.3 per cent of the total receipts, state and county aids 9.9 per cent, 6.6 from school lunch and milk program, 2.5 from tuition, 2.0 from utility tax and the remainder miscellaneous.

In 1965 aids and receipts projected 21.7 per cent of the money needed or $217 per $1,000 and the district levy produces 78.3 per cent of the money needed or $783 per $1,000. In 1964 aids and receipts produced 19.4 per cent of the money needed or $194 per $1,000 and the district tax levy only after Catlin demanded and produced 80.6 per cent or $806 won county board support to his per $1,000.

In addition to the total budget, the district has been asked to make up a $4,379 deficit from 1964.

made a lot of money and are smarter than some of us guys," He accused the civil service committee of "running around the courthouse and snooping in everyone else's business."

Supv. Mark Catlin, Appleton, said the traffic police committee concurred in giving the tests, and "all applicants must have thought themselves qualified or they wouldn't have taken the test."

Catlin said "action by an administrator, Capt. Decker, in doing what he pleases no matter what this body thinks, is an insult to every man on this county board. He says he doesn't care what this board thinks. This is a challenge to the authority of the county board. No administrator can so violate the will of the board."

Supv. Norman Beyer (Appleton 20) said Crane had only two years' experience to 14 for the traffic police committee, of which he is a member.

Beyer's motion passed, but only after Catlin demanded and produced 80.6 per cent or $806 won county board support to his amendment to Beyer's motion that the resolution must be reported back to the board in November.

17 AHS Seniors Cited Tuesday As Scholars

Students Honored For Performance in Scholarship Tests

Seventeen Appleton High School seniors were honored at a reception Tuesday in recognition of their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test taken last spring. Two achieved semifinalist status and 15 received letters of commendation. The 15 receiving the formal letters of commendation, pre-sented by AHS Principal William Berner, included Deborah Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker; Russell Boers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boers; Jennifer Court, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mil-ton Court; Douglas Demlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Demlow; Kathleen Downs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Downs; Helen Gabut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gabut; and Kenneth Klarner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Klarner. Others are Theodore Kloehn, son of Dr. and Mrs. K. E. Kloehn; Jonathan Llewellyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Llewellyn; Nancy McBrier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McBrier; David Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mueller; Paula Nichols, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Nichols; Ricki Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Peterson; Charles Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanders; and Jean Sitterson, daughter of Mrs. C. B. Sitterson. John Forbes and Richard Plant, whose placement as semifinalists was announced earlier, were also honored. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Forbes and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Plant. The reception, held during the last period in the Early American Room, was given by the AHS advisory council during its regular weekly meeting time. The advisory council is composed of AHS administrators and department chairmen. On each Wednesday on which career talks will be scheduled, three different speakers will be served. The letters of commendation to different groups concerning three different professions or occupations. Juniors, who will be free to choose which career talks to attend, must attend each week if they are offered. Other students can attend on a voluntary basis. The talks will be given during the advisory period from 12:35 to 1 p.m. Students with this schedule will be free to attend

Guidance Department Plans Schedule of Career Talks

The guidance department of talks concerning 66 different professions or occupations. The first career talks are scheduled Wednesday, when Robert Sauter will speak on architectural drafting, and Earl Wooden on career opportunities in commercial refrigeration. Each week the career talks will be varied to include talks suitable for both college-bound and terminal students. Talks are slated in coming weeks on law, the FBI, police work, advertising, commercial art and sheet metal work. The girls' department has scheduled a Career Day to achieve the same goals on Feb. 12.

Actress Divorces Fleishmann Heir

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Arlene Dahl has divorced Christian R. Holmes, heir to the Fleischmann yeast fortune, and her third husband. Superior Court granted the divorce Tuesday. Miss Dahl's suit had charged that Holmes refused to accept the responsibilities of a husband and father. She said he stayed away from home too much. Her previous husbands were actors Fernando Lamas and Lex Barker.

Nelson Backs Supple Marsh Development

Senator Says Many Beauty Spots of State Need Preservation

FOND DU LAC—Following a tour of Supple Marsh northwest of Fond du Lac Tuesday, Sen. Gaylord Nelson told reporters he was "sure that thousands of private citizens, as well as the state and federal government, would be glad to join in raising matching funds... to preserve and protect this beautiful marsh." Sen. Nelson, along with John Race, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, and John Franzen, secretary of the Wisconsin Resource Conservation Council, toured the Supple Marsh area, the marsh, "why don't they eliminate the site which has been exposed to devastation through the dumping of refuse by the City of Fond du Lac." Nelson also commented, "The about $80,000. The current price has been quoted as $130,000, but the marsh is due to be reassessed. Following the marsh tour, Nelson has an infinite capacity for fooling up his environment." White was author of the best-selling book, "Organization Man." Nelson added that he feels the rate of destruction of the marshes, the shoreline and the pollution, within 20 years will leave Lake Winnebago as "an albatross around the necks of its residents instead of a God-given magnificent asset." Prior to the tour, Franzen showed slides of the area and told of what has happened to what he termed the last marsh on Lake Winnebago. He said the dumping of refuse will eventually poison the entire area for wildlife. The site is now a gathering place for whistling swan, ducks and is a spawning ground. Franzen termed the marsh "just right for a wild life sanctuary." He contended that it could also be used someday for educational purposes. The state leases the area, composed of about 330 acres, as a public hunting ground. Part of the marsh is used for a city dump Nelson quipped, when told Franzen's proposal to purchase the Supple area, "they don't they completely eliminate the site which has been exposed to devastation through the dumping of refuse by the City of Fond du Lac." Nelson also commented, "The about $80,000. The current price has been quoted as $130,000, but the marsh is due to be reassessed. Following the marsh tour, Nelson

Kaukauna Student Picked In Senate Youth Program

KAUKAUNA — Wayne Steinbach, senior at Kaukauna High School, has been selected to participate in a state-wide qualifying test to determine two representative students from the state who will attend the William Randolph Hearst Foundation, United States Senate Youth program.

Steinbach was selected on the basis of standardized test scores and his co-curricular participation. He is president of the student council, National Honor Society member, sports editor for the school paper, a member of the varsity basketball team and was a representative at Badger Boys State. Two state winners will receive an all expense paid trip to Washington, D. C., to take part in the program tentatively set from Jan. 31 to Feb. 6. The program is designed to provide students of high school age a knowledge and insight of American political life. The week of activities will be son attended a coffee hour at the Colony Inn in Fond du Lac. He delivered speeches in Oshkosh at a noon luncheon at Koek's Inn, and at Wisconsin State University.

Police Quiz Exconvict in Possible Assassination Plot

Authorities in Corpus Christi Say They Seized Illegal Guns, Nazi Paraphernalia in Raids

BY RONNIE THOMPSON

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Officers quizzed today an exconvict plumber at whose home they seized guns and Nazi flags, about a reported plot to kill President Johnson here Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Julius Schmidt, 29, at his Corpus Christi home Tuesday night and took Jerry Bird, 27, of Callen, Tex., into custody here several hours later.

They said both men would be charged with violating the National Firearms Act.

Word from informers about guns being collected in this city on the lower Texas coast prompted simultaneous raids on the home of Schmidt and that of his mother, Nueces County Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said.

Loose Talk

Informers reported there was "a lot of loose talk about assassinating the President" and quoted unnamed individuals as saying they would try to obtain guns from Schmidt, Mitchell said.

After questioning Schmidt for more than three hours, the sheriff said he at first doubted there was a plot on the life of President Johnson.

Now that we have looked into it, Mitchell said there might be something to it. However, a plot has not yet been uncovered.

I plan to arrest two more people,

Admitted Purchases

The sheriff said Schmidt admitted buying machine guns and automatic weapons illegally but denied any knowledge of an assassination plot.

Schmidt, blond, blue eyed and ruddy complexioned, was questioned at the sheriff's office. News men were not permitted to talk to him.

Mitchell said 25 deputies gathered up machine guns, automatic pistols, high powered rifles, a knee mortar, a rocket launcher, live hand grenades, about 20,000 rounds of commercial and home made ammunition, several Nazi flags, World War I and II German helmets, a German medal and army uniform, photographs of World War II Nazi leaders and books by Adolf Hitler.

Last August

Some of the guns were at the home of Schmidt's mother because he lived there with his wife and small son until last August the sheriff said.

He described one rifle with telescopic sight as "capable of drilling a nail at 1,000 yards."

Mrs. G. H. Schmidt, mother of the man in custody, told a newsman she knew nothing about any plot and said of her son:

"He wouldn't do that. He didn't have any intention of doing that."

Police records showed that Schmidt, a stocky 180-pounder who is self-employed, was convicted and sentenced to 10 years in prison for murder in 1956.

Officers testified at his trial that he killed Juan Herrera with a shotgun after Herrera caught Schmidt and a companion burglarizing an auto parts store.

Schmidt was paroled from prison in 1958 and was granted a full pardon in 1960.

Mitchell said agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Secret Service and Treasury Department were joining in the investigation.

Spokesmen for the federal agencies declined comment.

Man Suspected Of Killing His Wife, 2 Others

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Aerospace engineer Howard C. Brock, who apparently slew his wife, stepdaughter and sister-in-law Tuesday, was acquitted 18 years ago in Philadelphia of murdering his first wife, police disclosed today.

Brock, 46, an employee of Hughes Aircraft, was found dead of a gunshot wound in his head at a Los Angeles apartment Tuesday. Also found were the bodies of Ann Brock, 40, her daughter Linda, 16, and Catherine Jordan, 39. Their throats were slit.

Los Angeles detectives said Philadelphia police confirmed that Brock slew his first wife, May, on a downtown Philadelphia street Sept. 23, 1946.

Police said a jury acquitted him with a finding that he was insane at the time of the stabbing.

Brock married his second wife Dec. 17, 1949.

Mrs. Brock filed for divorce last July 29, however, charging him with extreme cruelty. Her attorney, Lee Schwartz, said she told him she was "in fear of her life because of what happened to Brock's first wife."

Artist Held in Kidnaping of U. S. Officer

Police Say Painter May be Involved In Other Incidents

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police held today a society artist they said masterminded the kidnaping of U. S. Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Smolen. They said six other members of the Castro-Communist kidnap gang also were under arrest.

Luis Vera Bomez, director general of the Interior Ministry, said Angel Luque, 30, a Spanish-born abstract painter, was the brains of the kidnaping. He said Luque's littered two-room studio had been used to hide Smolen during the 86 hours the gang held him.

Gomez said Luque's studio also was used to hide Argentine soccer star Alfredo Distefano in another propaganda kidnaping by the Red underground last year.

Possibly Others

Police said they suspect Luque also was connected with the kidnaping of American Army Col. James Chenault last November.

They also thought he might have been involved in the theft of five French impressionist paintings valued at $650,000 in January 1963.

Distefano and Chenault were released unharmed and the paintings were recovered.

Smolen, 45, of Chandler, Ariz., was released unharmed Monday night after two of the gang were arrested. The arrests of three other gunmen accused of abducting Smolen and of Luque and his wife, Titania, identified as a Russian or Yugoslav, came Tuesday.

Factors Point To Illness of Space Scientist

MOSCOW (AP) — Several factors pointed today to a possibility that scientist Konstantin Feoktistov, eldest of the three-man crew of the space ship Voskhod — Sunrise — became ill on the ship's relatively brief circling of the earth.

Peaked appearances of Feoktistov, 38, in television broadcasts from orbit, photographs of him after landing, and a delay of the crew in coming to Moscow for the traditional Red Square celebration pointed to trouble.

Col. Vladimir Komarov, 37, the space ship's commander, and Dr. Boris Yegorov, 27, looked cheerful in photographs of the three men released by official Soviet news agencies.

Feoktistov, 38, looked game but grim.

This heightened speculation among non-Communist circles in Moscow that the space ship's flight ended sooner than was originally planned.

Fire Destroys Navy Equipment at Pole

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — A flash fire destroyed a large garage and three snow tractors Tuesday at the Navy's southernmost scientific station on the Antarctic, Pacific headquarters announced.

The Navy said the Amundsen-Scott South Pole station's 22-man population fought the fire in temperatures 67 degrees below zero.

Former Premier Of China Dead

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Shu Shih-ying, 81, premier of China in 1925-26, died Tuesday in Taipei of a heart ailment.

In recent years, he was a senior adviser to President Chiang Kai-shek.

3 Space Heroes Debriefed After Historic Flight

Meanwhile, Moscow Prepares for Big Weekend Welcome

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's three space heroes were debriefed with medical and scientific experts today as Moscow prepared a weekend welcome for them.

The three were checked over and questioned at a base east of Moscow where they were flown Tuesday after their 16-orbit flight aboard the spaceship Voskhod.

Informants said they would be brought to the Soviet capital Saturday or Sunday for a celebration in Red Square.

Glacier Areas

President Johnson's cabinet and other top Soviet officials already have hailed the world's first flight of a three-man space vehicle. Soviet scientists echoed the praise, ignoring speculation that the flight may have ended sooner than intended.

The government newspaper Izvestia said, however, that the cosmonauts had asked permission to stay up another day and were refused.

When the Voskhod blasted off Monday from a site near Baykonur, 1,250 miles southeast of Moscow, the Russians billed it as a "long flight."

Better Rockets

Soviet officials said better, more powerful rockets made possible the 16-orbit flight by pilot Vladimir Komarov, scientist Konstantin Feoktistov and Dr. Boris Yegorov.

The program of scientific research designed for 24 hours of flight was accomplished in full, an official announcement said.

Two Women Killed In Auto Accidents; State's Toll 831

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of two women in Wisconsin traffic accidents has raised the state's toll for 1964 to 831 compared with 684 on this date a year ago.

Miss Alice Johnson, 58, a case worker the past 20 years for the Jackson County Welfare Department was killed early today in a head-on car-truck collision a mile south of Merrillan on Highway 12. Miss Johnson resided in Merrillan. The truck driver was hospitalized.

Mrs. Dorothy Kapp, 61, of Milwaukee was killed Tuesday when her car and another auto collided at the intersection of U. S. Highway 41 and Washington County Trunk Y near Meeker Hill. Three other persons were injured.

Complex Tale Told in Playboy Club Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — A tale public relations man, is on trial dening charges of Playboy Club. No criminal charge has been made against Morhouse. Berger, the chain operations and a prosecution witness, testified that Morhouse proposed that the club be the key man in a plot to house the Playboy Club liquor license by paying a $50,000 bribe to Martin C. Epstein, chairman and give him a gift-shop concession in the chain of clubs and an option to buy $100,000 worth of stock.

The cast ranges from scantily clad waitresses with "rabbit ears," to an alleged grafter in who later was ousted and in option to buy $100,000 worth of stock.

There has been testimony that L. Judson Morhouse, former money that the Playboy Club GOP state chairman and political confidant of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, sought a minimum of $100,000 for legal fees as additional witness stand.

Ralph Berger, 58, former Playboy Magazine enterprises insurance to stay in business in Chicago night club operator and Arnold J. Morton, vice president of New York.

The jury also has heard testimony that the Playboy Club operators rejected the gift shop and stock purchase ideas but agreed to pay Morhouse $20,000 to pay Morhouse $20,000 of $100,000 for legal fees as additional witness stand.

The indictment against Berger names Morton as a coconspirator but not a defendant. He is the first witness at the trial.

Associated Press Offers Background About Viet Nam

Series Is Designed to Provide Answers to Important Questions

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Q. How did the Viet Nam situation come about?
A. The Indochina states — Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia — were a French colony. When the wartime Japanese occupation ended, Communist Ho Chi Minh proclaimed a republic in 1945. Later he mounted a guerrilla war, with Soviet and Chinese aid, against France.

When the French jungle fortress of Dien Bien Phu fell in the north, it was the end for France.
A Geneva conference partitioned Viet Nam at the 17th Parallel into Communist North and non-Communist South Laos and Cambodia also became independent.

Editor's Note — Viet Nam's future and what the United States can do about it have become an issue in the United States and a problem affecting U.S. relations with allies. Underlying elements of the situation can be lost in day-to-day dispatches. Here is an effort to clarify basic questions. Answers are based on the best available information, gathered by Malcolm W. Browne, chief AP correspondent in Saigon, and William L. Ryan, AP special correspondent.

A referendum in South Viet Nam deposed Emperor Bao Dai. Ngo Dinh Diem became chief of state. Later he proclaimed a republic with himself as president.
Guerrillas
Q. Where did the Communist guerrillas come from?
A. Many stayed in the South after partition. Many went South with a flood of refugees. Communists were strong in rural areas as long as 10 years ago.

Guerrillas
Q. Where did the Communist guerrillas come from?
A. Many stayed in the South after partition. Many went South with a flood of refugees. Communists were strong in rural areas as long as 10 years ago.

Q. What kind of war is it today?
A. Nightmarish, with no front, no rear against an elusive enemy difficult to identify. The Viet Cong hit and hide, raid and ambush, infiltrate and terrorize, propagandize and cajole peasants, constantly recruit manpower. The Viet Cong fights in jungles, marshes, rice paddies, villages. It is a political as well as military struggle, a contest for popular support.

Q. How did the United States get involved?
French Fall
A. The fall of the French made South Viet Nam a dangerous vacuum in U.S. eyes. American program of advising aid at South Viet Nam, though on a small scale, began quickly with the object of keeping Southeast Asia out of Communist hands.

Q. What administration started this?
A. In 1954 President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Ngo Dinh Diem a letter pledging U.S. efforts to help stabilize his government as a "viable state capable of resisting attempted subversion or aggression through military means." Diem visited the United States in 1957 and Eisenhower pledged continued aid against the Communists.

Q. What is the Viet Cong?
A. It's the name the South gives to the guerrillas, implying derision. Reliable estimates place its main fighting force at 34,000, supported by 80,000 armed regional guerrillas who fight at times also as labor or supply forces.

Q. How do they recruit?
A. Armed Viet Cong squads, often no more than 10 to a squad, work in agitation-propaganda teams. Totally indoctrinated, they are highly effective with the peasants and know how to live with them. They may have done the Saigon government more damage than the fighting battalions.

Q. How much territory does the Viet Cong control?
A. It almost wholly controls the rich, food-producing Ca Mau Peninsula in the south, claims complete control of 77 of South Viet Nam's 237 administrative districts. They no longer need recruiting squads in these.

Q. What about Viet Cong losses? Have they been heavy?
A. Yes. Estimates run to more than 10,000 casualties in the last six months. But over-all Viet Cong strength is reported to have grown by 7,000 since May, meaning 17,000 must have been recruited.

Q. Why does the Viet Cong fight?
A. The Communist propaganda is effective, picturing the enemy as foreigners and puppets of foreigners. When that fails, there are such methods as coercion and terror. The ordinary Viet Cong irregular is far, better armed and equipped than U.S. planes, helicopters and modern arms. But the Viet Cong hit and run, stage elaborate ambushes, fade into jungles.

Q. What's the Saigon government's manpower situation?
A. About 200,000 regulars, about 200,000 paramilitary forces.
U. S. Forces
Q. What about U.S. forces?
A. In December, 1961, there were 1,000 U.S. military personnel. By the end of 1963 this had risen to 15,500. This month it is 19,500.

Q. How about government counterpropaganda?
A. It is weak. Opposing the 330 Communist propaganda teams are only 20 government information units. Many of these people do not know how to live with rural people and even resist doing so. A team leader gets no more pay than a competent housemaid in Saigon.

Lawrence Says Emphasis on Candidates' Characteristics

Johnson Labeled
'Wheeler-Dealer'
By GOP Chief

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The current presidential campaign is unique in one respect — more emphasis is being placed on the personal characteristics of the candidates than has been true in preceding campaigns. Republicans are displeased because of the implication that Sen. Goldwater would, if elected, be a "reckless" president, while Democrats are unhappy because of the president's campaign questioning the "ethics" of President Johnson. Perhaps the frankest statement on what is meant when the Republicans call Johnson a "wheeler-dealer" has just come from Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who appeared on a CBS television and radio network on Sunday. He said:

"Well, I think the big issue that we are finally getting down to in this campaign is the character of the president of the United States. In other words, for so long the people of this country have equated politics almost with hypocrisy. They have been fed a diet of cream of wheat as far as politics. And now they are faced with one candidate whose candor is sometimes mistaken for recklessness when in fact all he is being is honest, the unorthodox politician. On the other hand, we have the classic politician, the present incumbent.

Final Issue

"I think what it is finally going to boil down to is whether the people of this United States want a man whose main attribute is plain, simple, old-fashioned honesty. I think that is our greatest advantage.

Burch was asked just how he would characterize President

Johnson. He answered as follows: "Well, I am not going to characterize the President as a man of dishonesty per se. But the President is a politician in the sorriest sense of the term, to my way of thinking. He is the wheeler-dealer, the arm-twister, 'go for whatever is good at the moment, disregard what you have done in the past' — that sort of thing. Sen. Goldwater is consistent and he is honest. That is the way I would appraise the two candidates."

Burch was asked if he didn't think that "wheeling and dealing and twisting people's arms to arrive at compromise is part of the Democratic system and are desirable attributes in the White House." His reply was:

Congressional Training

"Not the way the President works it — No, I wouldn't say so. This might have worked in the legislative body, where he got all of his training, in the Congress. There is a great deal of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting in the congress. "But I think it is a little unbecoming for the President of the United States to be twisting arms in the congress, because they are two separate branches of the government."

When asked to give a specific example of wheeling and dealing and arm-twisting, Burch replied:

"I am talking about the votes on the civil rights bills. Anybody who shows the least bit of nervousness about a vote for the administration gets a call from the President and it is suggested that he should well reconsider his position. The president suggests that he has a long memory and that if he (the congressman) wants his district taken care of, and if he wants to be on the inside of the White House he had better go along with the administration program."

Tactic Not New

What the Republican chairman has described, however, is a tactic that is not novel in Washington. Other presidents have used it, too. Many members of congress have risked their political futures by refusing to go along with administration policies with which they disagreed. But the tendency in recent years has been more and more to condone the use of public funds and governmental favors to influence the votes of members of congress. This isn't usually described as "dishonest," but as merely "practical politics."

Many a political contributor doesn't expect any reward if a candidate he supports wins the election. But there are many others who do. It takes a good deal of courage for a president to turn down heavy contributors to a political campaign, and in the past the contributors have been rewarded by appointments to posts in the diplomatic service or in the cabinet or in other posts outside the civil service. For decades there has been condemnation of this practice, but nothing seems to have been done about it. And what is called "arm-twisting" and "wheeler-dealing" today is something which has grown in scope over the years, and now plays a significant part not only in lining up votes in congress but in the allocation of some government contracts and the selection of sites for governmental projects. All this doesn't necessarily impugn the personal character of a president, but it certainly emphasizes how far the American politician has strayed from what used to be called "unselfish devotion to the public interest."

Last Visit With Great Eddie Cantor Recalled

Entertainer Raised Funds Despite Illness, Enjoyed Talking Old Times

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A last visit with Eddie Cantor — Cantor in his final years was far from the vital, kinetic figure who had danced across the Ziegfeld stage and the screens carried books with him, and of movie houses. His speech had every day he would read the grown slow and heavy-tongued, New York Times and several evidence of the heart attacks other newspapers. Each night that had withdrawn him from he would get out the dictionary the entertainment scene. When and pick out three words that he he moved, it was with a deliber- made me learn and use in sena- tness of a man who knew he tences. By the end of two years was existing on borrowed time.

But his mind was sharp as a pretty good vocabulary. As I visited at his Beverly Hills home one day, his memory seemed unimpaired as he reached back to those days he liked to recall, when he was first flashing across the horizon of the entertainment world. Cantor's doctor had pre- scribed a shot of whisky each day to assuage his ailments, and the comedian still didn't enjoy taking it.

Roommate of Fields
"I never enjoyed drinking," he reflected, "and I think I know why. My first roommate in the 'Ziegfeld Follies' was W. C. Fields. He never drank be- fore the show — he couldn't and do his juggling. But when the show was over, he got plastered."

"I saw him three days before he died, and he said to me, 'I sometimes wonder what I could have been if I hadn't been on the stuff.'"

Cantor felt a mellowness toward Fields, as he did toward all his old fellow performers:

Yehudi Menuhin to Play Bach Numbers in WAPL Broadcast

Yehudi Menuhin, one of the world's most renowned violinists, will be heard as soloist with the New York Philharmonic Sunday afternoon. The weekly concert is broadcast at 3 p.m. live and ex- clusively in this area over WAPL Radio 1570 kc. Menuhin currently is artistic director of two music festivals, at Bath, England, and Gstaad, Switzerland.

His offerings will be two Bach works, "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra, A minor," and "Con- certo for Violin and Orchestra, E major."

The Philharmonic's third work Sunday will be the first in the Anton Bruckner cycle which the Philharmonic has undertak- er for the current season, the "Symphony No. 3, D minor."

Mary Moore Steals Show From Kaye

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Danny Kaye Show is brightened by the glow of Mary Tyler Moore on a holiday from her spy duties on The Dick Van Dyke Show. As lively as a nimble-footed peppermint stick, the young lady almost steals the show away from her host in a sketch spoofing writers of the Old South.

6:30-7 (Channel 2) — CBS News Extra describes the ac- tion on the eve of England's election of a new prime min- ister. The election's final re- sults will be reported via Relay II tomorrow.

6:30-8 (Channel 5) — The Vi- ginian's hero (James Drury) is almost roped by the multiple charms of Katherine Crawford who he thinks may be just the "perfect women" in "Felicity's Spring." (COLOR)

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — Shindig is again busy with the Brit- ish pop sound, with Manfred Mann, Adam Faith and Elkie Brooks.

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — Wednes- day Night at the Movies, which last week introduced a brand new enterprise, returns to its repertoire of old flicks with "Torpedo Run."

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show, with a dandy script by Carl Reiner, gives Mary Tyler Moore another op- portunity to shine tonight. But most of the laughs stem from younger brothers and sisters, as Dick and Jerry Paris who are staging a knock-down-drag-out battle over the merits of crab grass.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Cara Williams Show has its daffy heroine, Cara, planting a rumor that the office in which she and her husband (Frank Aletter) work is pulling up stakes to move to New York.

8:30-9 (Channel 11) — Burke's Law comes up with an amus- ing whodunit on "Who Killed Everybody?" It almost seems as if the series was trying to

Spunky Boy Rescues Five From Flames

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (AP) —

When spunky 10-year-old Ed- ward McNeil saw smoke and fire curling through his home, he ran quickly for help, as his mother had told him. Then he returned to rescue his five younger brothers and sisters, as instinct told him.

The six children were alone Tuesday night in their small, one-story cottage, and one of them, 2-year-old Junior, was playing with matches.

Spotting flames, Edward dashed to the home of George and Paiko across the street and told sister (Maria, 3). I don't know the neighbor: "My house is on why she didn't go out by herself."

fire, mister, call the fire depart- ment." But he didn't wait for help as the flames spread. By the time firemen arrived to find the house completely engulfed by fire, Edward had gone in and out four times to carry or lead the children to safety. "I took out my little baby brother (Clarence, 4 months) first. He was crying and I had to carry him. I put him in a carriage that was outside," said Edward. "Then I got my little sister (Kathy Lee). She's one year old and I had to carry her. I put her on the steps. "Then I got my two-year-old brother (Junior). I had to take him by the arm. Then I got my sister (Maria, 3). I don't know why she didn't go out by herself." "My six-year-old brother Edward was scared?" "Uh huh," he replied.

Nelson Says Knowles Fails To Plan Ahead

Senator Gives Two Oshkosh Addresses On State Tour

OSHKOSH—Sen. Gaylord Nelson Tuesday accused Republican gubernatorial candidate Warren Knowles of 20 years of failure to plan ahead for educational and welfare buildings while he was majority leader in the state senate and lieutenant-governor.

Senator Nelson spoke at a noon luncheon at Koec's Inn here and before students at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

Nelson also said Knowles' proposed reduction of the state budget would necessitate a cut-back in building programs for schools and welfare institutions.

WSU-O would be half its size now if Knowles had been governor for the past six years, Nelson said. Nelson was elected governor in 1958 and re-elected in 1960. He was followed by the incumbent, Democrat John Reynolds, in 1962.

School Funds Up
Nelson said in the last six years of Democratic administration in the state, appropriations for school and welfare buildings were more than twice the total of the previous 20 years, the highest offices in the land the time in which Knowles was without telling the voters what a "top-ranked Republican" and they are for "We all know what exerted much influence.

City Funds Earn Interest

Investments Pay Off Big For Appleton Treasury

True... it takes money to make money.

And, the City of Appleton is right in there pitching.

Profit from its investments—non-speculative, that is—should amount to a record—setting $125,673.12 this year.

The encouraging prediction came Tuesday from City Treasurer Ray Feuerstein.

Feuerstein is charged with handling the city's cash, surplus and otherwise, and he has been doing quite well investment-wise.

Last year, for example, the "take" from city investments totaled $106,721.

Never Lose
In 1962 the city's investment portfolio yielded a tidy $82,000, and the year before the profit amounted to $77,000.

used only about $400,000 in stu-dent loans, while in the past six years, the amount has increased to $10 million.

National Issues
Nelson concerned himself mainly with state issues, in particular the educational aspect, and mentioned the national race only in passing. He said he was astonished that Republicans Barry Goldwater and William Miller can run for the highest offices in the land without telling the voters what they are against," added Nelson.

Madison Junior High Teachers Attend Reading Conference

Two James Madison Junior High School teachers attended the 17th annual reading conference sponsored by Cardinal Stritch College, Milwaukee, Saturday.

Attending were Mrs. Viola Grunwaldt and Mrs. Robert Wirth.

"Meaning: the Essence of Reading" was the theme. Dr. H. Alan Robinson, director of the Reading Conference and Workshop, University of Chicago, and Dr. Olive S. Niles, director of reading in the Springfield, Mass., public schools, were featured speakers.

Retarded Children Topic Of Sherwood Parent Group

SHERWOOD — Tender, at-children can get along if help-tentive care was prescribed for ed. She emphasized that they mentally retarded children by want to feel that they belong and are accepted by the com-munity. She said parents of re-tarded children should help a child find his place in the com-munity early.

Miss Pfund praised Calumet County for its program on the mentally retarded.

Appeals For Teachers
She appealed for teachers be-cause of the increase in the number of classes and explain-ed how she first began teaching special classes.

Sister St. Michael, principal of Sacred Heart School, appeal-ed to the parents for more vol-unteer teacher aids, to super-vice the playground during noon hour and to help first and sec-ond graders read. Letters will be sent to all members and vol-unteers should indicate which day they can help.

Changing the annual parent-teacher conference, report card day was discussed. It was sug-gested that if this were held in the evening more fathers could participate. Parent-Teacher day is scheduled Nov. 6.

The Rev. Richard Mauthe, di-rector of Green Bay Newman Center and assistant pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Church, and Dr. Paul Wainscott, Menasha, have been engaged to speak Dec. 9. Their topic will be "Sex Education for Parents, Dealing With Problems Infancy Through Teen-Agers."

Brave Weather, Elements at Cadette-O-Ree

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Weather in the area was not conducive to the Cadette-O-Ree, sponsored by the Fox River Area Girl Scouts Council, a success. The weekend event was held at Hatten Park.

Mrs. Frederick Ziemann, Appleton, said the event went well despite the weather. There was an adult leader for about every eight girls. Competition was the main theme, with awards given to the camp with the best entrance, cleanest grounds and highest scores in various competition.

Entered Competition

Saturday competition was in atomic disposal, a game played by tying ropes to an inner tube and stretching the tube over a can of water to keep from touching the can while dumping, a pancake flipping contest, tree identification, tent pitching and pole lashing. The troop or patrol with the highest score was awarded a prize.

The girls held a campfire Friday night and sang songs to warm the spirit. On arising Saturday they found thick frost and ice in their water buckets.

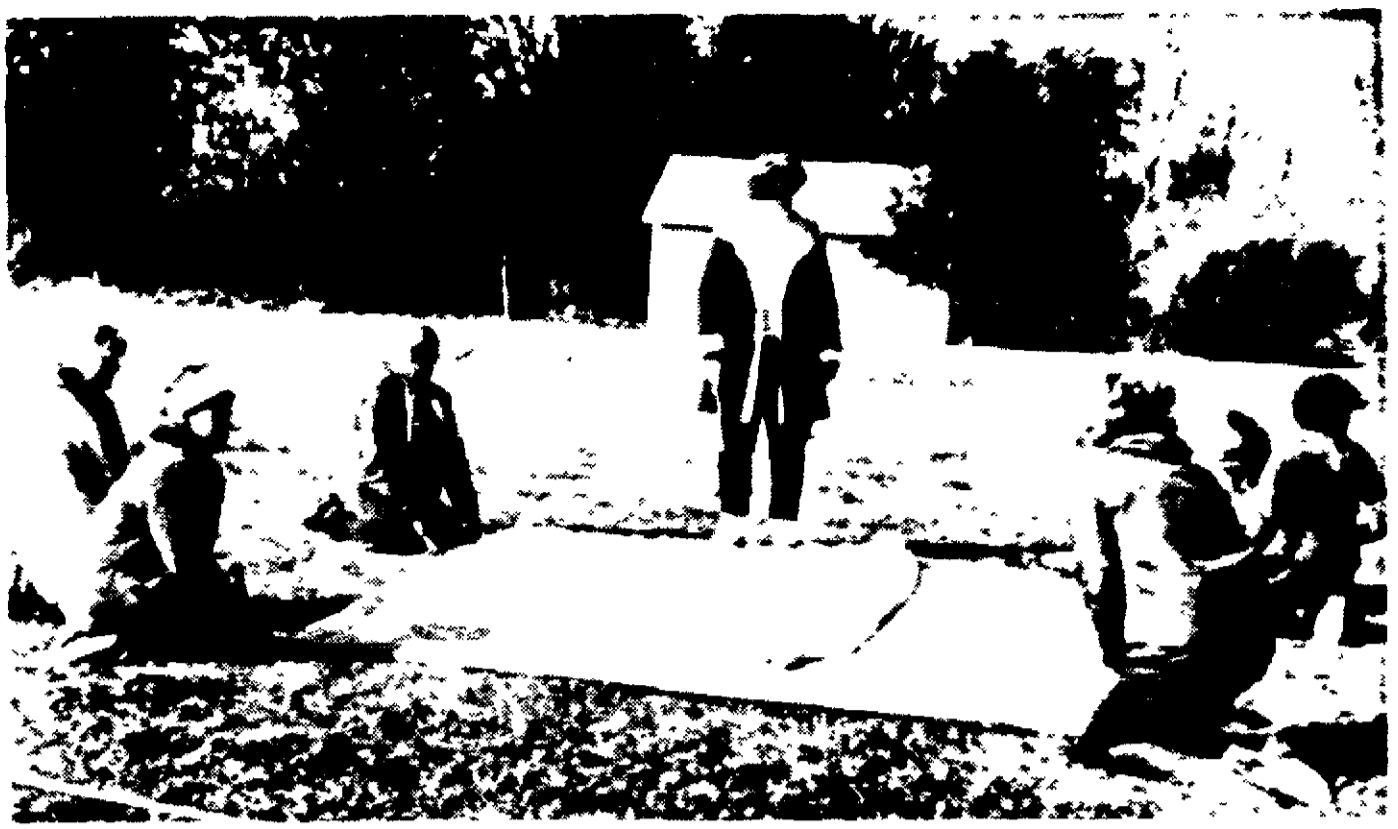

Competition in speed and accuracy was held all day Saturday. The scoring of the events was done by senior Girl Scouts of the Fox River Council.

The girls set up camp Friday after sunset. They arose at 7 a.m. Saturday and began the tedious task of making camp ready for inspection and preparing skits to be presented at the campfire Saturday.

The Cadette-O-Ree was attended by 15 troops from Appleton, Clintonville, Neenah, Menasha, Waupaca, Iola and New London.

Nancy Troemel and Shelley Juergens, above, Appleton, Troop 300, compete in the pole tying contest. The troops lashed together three poles to form a flag pole. Below, Kay Kluever and Karen Mattuck, of the New London Troop, try their hands at the pancake flipping contest. Cooking pancakes, at right, for the flapjack contest, are Kathy Babb and Mary Van Sistine, Appleton, Troop 322. The contests were part of the program of the Cadette-O-Ree held at Hatten Park, New London, last weekend. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Troop 345, Neenah, above, entered the tent pitching competition at the Cadette-O-Ree. Below, Christine Skarda and Kathleen Heule, Sacred Heart Troop, Appleton, build their entrance to the campsite. About 250 girls in sixth, seventh and eighth grades participated in the weekend event.

Typhoid Epidemic Spread by Dirty Public Washrooms

The recent typhoid epidemic in Aberdeen, Scotland, provided a sad reminder about a basic principle of health. Press reports cited dirty public washrooms as largely responsible for spreading the disease — because not enough soap and hot water were available to maintain proper hygiene.

Public washrooms are everybody's concern in any community. So complain about or report unsanitary conditions wherever you find them.

VNA to Receive Visit From 'League' Nurse

A representative of the National League for Nursing, Miss Adan R. Davis, will visit the Appleton Visiting Nurses Association Oct. 19 and 20. The biennial visit is part of the League's program to help local groups evaluate their work and give them suggestions for improving their services.

Miss Davis will have conferences with membership, public relations and other committees which comprise the VNA Board. She will also discuss the local program with health nursing division of the Miss Inez Davis, nurse director Philadelphia, Pa., Department Assistant director in the De-

Wash, Wax Gourds For Centerpieces

As soon as you pick colorful gourds to use for centerpieces, wash them in a disinfectant. Scrub them in sulphonaphthol or any non-bleaching disinfectant with a fiber brush. Take care not to scratch the surface.

Using the disinfectant removes dirt, dust and mold organisms. Put the gourds away in a clean airy place out of the direct sun to dry and harden for a week or ten days. Then wax with a good liquid floor wax.

Department of Public Health Nursing, New York, Miss Davis was assistant director in the Division of Public Health Nursing in the Westchester, N. Y. County Department of Health. She has served as education director of the VNA in Syracuse, N. Y., and as a field supervisor in the public health nursing division of the Philadelphia, Pa., Department of Health.

Hospitalized Child Needs Assurance, Cards, Visits

The world of children is full of such happy things as lollipops and learning to read, birthdays and bicycles. Hospitalization is a simple as a cold, or as complicated as a defective heart valve. Hospitalization might be just a few days, or it might be several weeks.

Emphasize Doctor's Help

These suggestions to parents will help children accept and understand hospital care.

Whenever your child visits the doctor for his regular medical check-up, emphasize that the doctor and his nurse both want him to be well and happy.

After visiting a hospitalized adult, be sure that your conversation in front of children conveys to a child whether he's sick or well.

Send Cards

Encourage friends and relatives to send cards or letters. Children love to open mail, and happy greetings will be especially welcomed during a hospital stay.

Finally, don't try to fool him. If it's going to hurt, he'll find out about it. Tell him honestly the general procedure the doctor will follow, and explain that he's going to the hospital to get well.

Following these suggestions might not make a youngster's hospital stay any shorter, but the days will go by faster and he'll remember the hospital as "the place he got well."

The Boys' Student Council of Xavier High School sponsored the first freshmen mixer Saturday evening at the Commons. Visiting in the foreground are Miss Cece Schmieder and Michael Braun, general chairman. Dancing are Miss Margie Blick and Greg Steinhorst and Miss Sue Playman and Bradford Fitzgerald. Jerald Rankin had charge of refreshments; James Rossmessl, chaperones, and Daniel Bleier, decorations. The Saturday evening event was the first social activity for the freshmen class. Post-Crescent Photo)

Kenneth R. W. Sager will talk on "Education with Imagination" at the third of this year's Annual Lecture Series sponsored by the Women of All Saints' Episcopal Church. The program will be given at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the Parish Center. Mr. Sager is associate professor of education at Lawrence University. He received his B. A. degree from Lawrence and an M. A. degree in history from the University of Wisconsin. The speaker taught at Appleton High School before joining the Lawrence faculty in 1963. He is a member of the Appleton Board of Education.

Campaign Talk at 'Tea Tours'

tolls on expressways, and responds that it is because they have been built with federal assistance. In Milwaukee women want to know why they can't play bingo. All over the state they want to know about school aids.

Jean Lucey is questioned about the David Rabinowitz appointment. In her pre-question talk, she tells of her husband's campaign theme and the importance of having a lieutenant governor of the same political party as the governor, as he becomes acting head of the state in the governor's absence.

She also, she says, talks about Goldwater. She reads his own statements, and comments that a man can be judged best by his own utterances. She could have sold a thousand of the books she quotes, she says, if she had gotten on it sooner.

Trials of the Road
The women laugh over many incidents that have happened since they began their 'stomp' of the state. Their battery went dead in Rhineland, and they ran out of gas Monday evening on Hwy. 151. The first two cars that stopped were informed of the problem — they were taking no chances — and about nine gallons of gas were hauled back to their waiting car.

They laugh over an evening in Ladysmith, when, after dinner, they found themselves out of cigarettes. They went into the bar for change for the machine. There was only one customer, and the women decided to be political pros. They introduced themselves to the bartender and customer as the wives of Sen. Proxmire and Gov. Reynolds. As they left, they heard the customer shake his head as he commented to two newcomers, "See those two dames over there? They say they're married to Proxmire and Reynolds, if you believe 'em."

Care For Children
While their mothers are away, the Proxmire, Reynolds and Lucey children are cared for by relatives, members of their fathers' staffs, or sitters. Even when they're home, they don't sit around and knit, they say. These 'on-the-go' women like to make a campaign sweep with their husbands when they can.

Although the end of the tours will signal the beginning of quieter days and less dashing from city to city, the three will miss their hand-shaking, and literature and bumper sticker distributing swings through the state. They've gotten to know a lot of people, and learned to respect their interest in the way their state and country are governed.

Barry Goldwater's Sister Campaigns Confidently

BY BOB VOELKER (them Barry sends his regards.)

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — Like many women, Mrs. Bernard Erskine had dabbled in small town politics, "addressing envelopes and licking stamps," as she puts it. But no more. She is Barry Goldwater's sister.

And the 52-year-old mother of three has plunged almost full force into her brother's Republican presidential campaign. She finds it exciting.

Mrs. Erskine has logged hundreds of miles already in the campaign, by auto and plane, and she plans to travel much more before it's all over.

For the most part, she makes appearances at political gatherings and speaks briefly, informally.

Informal Campaign
"Mostly, I thank them and tell

Mrs. Erskine was on hand with her brother for the official campaign kickoff in Arizona and since then their paths have crossed only once, in Louisville. She says she will do little, if any, campaigning with the official Goldwater party.

"I try to be where he is not," she says.

Feels Confident
Like most sisters would, Mrs. Erskine feels confident her brother will win.

Mrs. Erskine's husband has a campaign chore too. "I haul her around wherever she wishes to go," says the rancher-businessman.

Erskine says he is "an enthusiastic Republican," but is leaving active campaigning to his wife. "She's a much better campaigner," he adds. "she has a flair for it."

The couple has three sons, Paul, 26, a member of the Young Republicans: Tim, 24, an Army lieutenant serving in Germany; and John, 11.

The Erskines keep two homes, one in this Cameron County town and the other at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Erskine operates a cattle-feeding ranch in Arizona and owns two Pennsylvania manufacturing plants. The plant here makes tools and instruments, employing about 100 workers. A plant at Reynoldsville manufactures radio tubes and employs about 200.

Maple syrup makes a delightful sweetening for apples that are to be baked. To gild the lily, serve the apples with whipped cream also flavored with maple syrup. This baked apple dessert is good enough for company!

world who don't know alcohol- ism is a serious problem in some families? Do they honestly believe they are being hospitable when they press a guest to have a drink after the guest has said repeatedly he doesn't care for one?

It's bad enough when a host or hostess forces food on people after they've said "No, thank you," but when they do this with alcohol, it's more than bad manners, it's unforgivable.

My husband is an alcoholic. He refuses to admit it but I know the terrible truth. Weeks go by and he won't touch a drop, but once he takes that first drink he is helpless. He in their fiendish attempts to get at the canary.

Friday evening we attended a party. The host, a notorious hood cats killed several wrens lush, kept badgering my hus- and thrushes, scratched our band until he had "just one" granddaughter and have dras- Well, my husband has been tically reduced the squirrel pop- drunk ever since.

Please tell people how cruel it is to force liquor on a guest. That "one drink" could send him down the lonely road forever—Wife of an Alcoholic.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've said it—dozens of times—but it's worth saying again. Drinkers who pressure non-drinkers to "have just one" after they have said, "No, thank you," are not trying to be gracious. They are trying to drag non-drinkers down to their level.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The boy I am going with reads a lot. Paul can quote from Shakespeare, Shelley, Milton and Emerson and is able to come up with just the right passages at the right time. He wins every argument because he can get one of the greats of literature to back him up no matter what side he's on. He often quotes the Bible and what can a person say to that?

Last night we were in the parlor and Paul wanted to turn off the lights. I said, "No." He came back with—"But Shelley said, 'How beautiful the night. The balmyest sign which vernal zephyrs breathe in evening's ear.'" And added, "The Bible says, 'Man's mettle is tested by toil in the darkness.'" How can I win?—Stumped

SEAMS TO ME Questions On Sewing

By Patricia Scott

Q. I have sloping shoulders. In that case you'll have and even though I try to alter to mark a new armhole line. my patterns before cutting. I sometimes still get wrinkles from the neck toward the armhole. Can I still alter the dress?

Mrs. T.R.G.

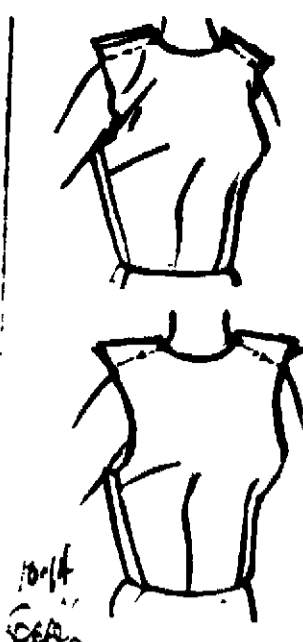

A. You can take a little deeper seam allowance because the seam goes towards the armhole (see illustration). However, you may find that because you have raised it, the armhole may be a little too high under

Q. I just made a fake fur bradtail jacket. It looks great except for the seams. All the hairs are caught in the seam. What can I do?

Mrs. J.S.

A. Take a needle and pick the nap out of the seam. The hairs or nap are very short and will come out easily. After you do this down the entire seam, the hair will cover the seam line, giving your garment an authentic fur look.

A. I have a dress with a yoke break because there is no lining or backing to it. How can I reinforce the yoke?

Miss R. T. R.

A. Cut a piece of fabric in the size and shape that will completely cover the shirring plus one-half inch all around for seam allowance. Fold under the raw edges of this piece and pin to the wrong side of the garment over the shirring. Hem the piece to the dress with tiny invisible stitches.

Q. I have your booklet, "How To Alter Dress Patterns," because I need instructions regarding one hip that is higher than the other. This is explained clearly for gored skirts but not for straight ones. But it's the latter type that doesn't fit me. What should I do?

Miss M.C.H.

A. A straight skirt is not illustrated in the booklet because the alteration is the same, but the gored skirt requires alteration on the front and back pieces as well as the side front and side back pieces. The straight skirt is adjusted by slanting the pattern from the side seam to the center, five to six inches from the waistline and spreading the pieces accordingly. Then the center front and back must be straightened.

Q. Many sewing schools are advertised, but they require more money than I can pay. What do you suggest?

Miss B. C.

A. Write or call your board of education. Many high schools have good evening adult education courses in sewing.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers and Open House questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

TRIPLE CELEBRATION

Dear Louise: My husband and I who will celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary in November were born and raised in our village of about 2000 people. We know almost everyone which makes it almost impossible to send a card or a letter to everyone. We will be at home to our friends, stating the date and the daughter, they will surely be with important roles?

Relaxing Footbath

A home-care bed patient will consider it a treat to have a real foot bath—right in bed! After the customary sponge bath, place a basin of soapy water over a plastic sheet near the foot of the bed, then let him flex his knees and immerse his feet for a few minutes. He will enjoy the comfort and refreshment of a sudsy soak, and an extra benefit is stimulated circulation. Finish by rinsing with a damp cloth, then wiping feet and ankles dry.

Louise Davis Answers:

Since you know almost everyone in the village, you can determine better than I how they would react to an invitational notice in your newspaper. Generally, etiquette frowns on such an invitation but circumstances such as yours may alter cases. If you think that friends would come to your party anyway, why not take a chance? It would be all right to include the other two family anniversaries, but somehow I feel that a 50th best wishes for them too so why not put a notice in the newspaper that all to themselves. If you decide to include your son and son and his wife in the cast of friends, they will surely be with important roles?

KRAMBO EVERYDAY LOW PRICES

Have Been and Still Are the LOWEST in TOWN!

That's Right, Krambo Still Has More Everyday Low Prices That Are as LOW or LOWER Than Those in Any Other Store in Appleton or the Twin Cities

Almost 9 months ago, Krambo drastically lowered the prices on more than 2000 items and kept these prices low. Only recently have there been attempts by others to show some similar price reductions of their own. You've seen ads with price comparisons on a few items—you've seen "We Save You More" etc. Out of all the confusion one fact has emerged crystal clear. That's the fact that Krambo still has the lowest everyday prices. That's what counts most to help cut your food budget—and it's so easy to prove it for yourself. Below are just a few of the low everyday prices in effect at Krambo, day after day. But we suggest you shop Krambo yourself. Note the colorful shelf flags that point out special savings. Make your own price comparisons and you too will agree "Krambo STILL has the lowest Everyday Prices" to save you more.

Son's Interests Need Balance, Perspective

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: Our son has been making an insect collection for the past few years, using his allowance to buy the materials he has needed to catch and preserve and mount his specimens. He has a fine collection that he is very proud of. But recently he saw one that a young college fellow near us had made when he was about my son's age—13—and my son is almost obsessed with it. The fellow offered to sell it to my son for a sum of money that's very reasonable, considering the collection my son would be getting. But that's still almost as much as an entire year's allowance.

That's where the argument has started. My husband is willing to give our son an advance of the year's allowance. I'm not. And I'm also not willing to pretend that this is an early birthday gift. My reasons for not approving of letting our son buy this collection are connected with the fact that I don't think this will help our son learn anything about the value of saving my son's age—13—and my son his money.

We have had so many arguments about this that we finally agreed to let you decide for us. I bet my husband $10 to your favorite charity that you'd agree with me. Do you?

MRS. D. F.

If your husband thinks he still owes it, ask him to send the money to CARE. But I have two different reasons for opposing your son's purchase of the collection:

1—It won't help him develop self-control and knowledge as his past collecting activities have. It will only serve to feed his greed to own and possess something. Anything he can really learn from the larger collection can be better learned at your local museum.

2—It would let him get the idea that his own needs dominate the family fiscal policies and are more important than your obligation to keep a sensible family budget.

If your son has been spending all his allowance on his collection, something's wrong. Unless he's very neurotic about this, he should be able to follow a plan that would limit expenditures on the collection to no more than half his weekly allowance. He needs to practice spending money on things that last only for a moment, but give great pleasure, like ice cream comes.

Dear Dr. Jones: My son is 5½ years old and the little girl next door was just 7, so they usually don't play together very much. That's why I think it might be easier to cope with the problem that has come up lately simply by telling my son to stay away from her.

The problem is that whenever she has her girlfriends over, they ask my son to play with them. Then they tell him that if he won't play exactly the way they want him to, they'll pull his pants open! Then he comes home crying and asking me if they really could do something like that to him.

I tell him of course not and tell him to stay away from them, but he falls for it every time. I hope you won't think we live in a slum—our neighborhood is a very good one and the little girl is the daughter of a woman who's a college graduate. Perhaps knowing that is making it extra difficult for me to say something to the mother to make her stop her child from this kind of behavior. (I left college at the end of my first year.) I'd appreciate it if you'd tell me exactly what to do.

MRS. C. E.

Those little girls sound very curious about what a little boy looks like, and they may even be jealous. Tell your son that, and tell him to say so to the girls. That will probably stop their teasing more completely than anything the mother could say to them. And it will help your son learn to defend his manhood and preserve his dignity.

My pamphlet, "The Facts of Life for Your Pre-School Child," describes the information a child your son's age should know. Why don't you pass it along to the woman next door? It will help her teach her daughter that sex isn't something to use as a threat or to tease with.

Dr. Jones replies personally to readers' letters. Send your questions, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to Dr. Eve Jones, in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Give Away Tricks You Must Lose
 BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
 National Men's Team Champion

When you're in a difficult no-trump contract, give the opponents the tricks they're sure to get but postpone giving them doubtful tricks. If you must eventually give up those tricks, you can choose the best time.

Dummy won the first trick with the eight of spades, and declarer immediately (and foolishly) cashed the top hearts and led a third heart. West took two heart tricks and then led the king of spades, holding the trick.

When West then shifted to diamonds, East was sure to get the king of diamonds and the ace of clubs, defeating the contract.

South should begin with clubs and diamonds since he is sure to lose the ace of clubs and can hardly avoid the diamond finesse. The hearts can wait.

Declarer should lead dummy's queen of clubs at the second trick. East takes the ace of clubs, and returns a spade to the queen. South wins the next spade trick and tries the diamond finesse, losing to the king. East returns a club to the king.

Several Ways

There are now several ways to make the contract. South is sure of two tricks in each suit and can win a ninth trick if clubs or diamonds break well.

South can afford to cash the jack of diamonds, and West must discard a heart. This interesting discard encourages South to lead his last diamond to dummy's ace. West must discard the thirteenth spade, since any other discard would be fatal.

By this time it should be clear to declarer that West started with a singleton diamond and three 4-card suits. South can lead but three rounds of hearts, forcing West to lead from the 10-8 of clubs to the J-9. This free finesse gives declarer game and rubber.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S A J 2 H A 6 5 D J 9 2 C K J 9 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid 2 NT, showing 13 to 15 high-card points with balanced distribution and strength in all of the unbid suits.

TAFFY'S TIPS
 By Dolly Martin

PLEASE PASS THE BREAD + BUTTER

"PASS" PROPERLY AT THE TABLE

Whether you are dining at a big banquet or quietly at home with the family don't reach or point something at the other end of the table, or make a formal announcement that you'd like "this" or "that." If something you want is very far away, catch the eye of the person near the item and softly ask them to pass it to you. Or ask the person next to you to ask the person sitting next to the item to send it up to you. And even though that person may have to ask the third person to get it started moving, it's better than announcing it to the whole table. And if you're asking for a large platter, take it as soon as it reaches you. Don't expect the person near you to hold it while you serve yourself.

Flatbed Ironer Proves New Aid For Pleated Skirt

Now any home may have the flatbed type of ironer used by tailors and valets. This permits spreading out pleated skirts, trousers — even household linens — then pulling down a 27 x 21 inch heated shoe for one-motion pressing.

This lightweight home laundering aid folds to suitcase size for storage, is thermostatically controlled, and eliminates line-drying as it is able to iron and dry wet wash.

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

SHIOCTON — Wedding promises were exchanged by Miss Mary Jean McHugh and Kenneth Wehrman at 2 p.m. Oct. 3 at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Stevensville. The Rev. Robert Carter officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McHugh, route 1, Shiocton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elda Wehrman, route 1, Hortonville.

A sister of the bride, Mrs. Michael Prunty, Appleton, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dennis Conrad, Mrs. Kenneth McHugh, with the John Strange Paper Miss Carolyn Beyers and Miss Co. Menasha.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple is residing at 1600 Gene Kaddatz, Medina, attend-Hines St., Appleton.

Does Welfare State Cause Cut in Ambition?

BY SYLVIA PORTER

STOCKHOLM — Does cradle-to-grave security lessen an individual's ambition to work? Does a government guarantee of basic health insurance and an adequate old-age pension discourage individual purchases of private insurance? Does a full-employment welfare state slash the rate of savings, boost the number of suicides, alcoholics, illegitimate babies?

The questions imply the accusations which are frequently made about the impact of a welfare state on the individual, and we must weigh them as we debate the adoption of new welfare measures in the U. S.

In Sweden, the most advanced welfare state in the world, the accusations have long been made. Thus, I asked the questions wherever I turned here and found these answers.

Q.: Does a cradle-to-grave welfare society slash the individual's ambition and incentive to work hard for higher earnings?

A.: There is no evidence whatsoever that it has in Sweden. One reason is that, despite Sweden's high level of income taxes, workers and corporations still can keep enough after taxes to make it decidedly worthwhile to try to earn more.

The average income tax paid by a middle-income family is 30 per cent, the highest effective individual rate is 70 per cent, and the total tax paid by a corporation is around 50 per cent. As Ambassador Sven Dahlgren, vice president of the Federation of Swedish Industries, remarked, "Even the steepest rates leave enough to encourage us to work for higher incomes."

Another reason is Sweden's system of piece-rate wages which, of course, spurs incentive and permits workers to earn far more than the apparent wage scale.

Worker Aware

A third reason is that the Swedish worker is fully aware that his pension depends on his level of earnings and that the higher his earnings go, the higher will be his future pension.

A Royal Commission study a while ago dug into this precise question, concluded there had been no decline in ambition to work.

Q.: Does a government guarantee of basic health insurance and an adequate pension discourage purchases of private insurance?

A.: Neither has done this in Sweden to date.

When national health insurance was introduced in 1955, the expectation was that this would cut sharply into private health insurance sales. Instead, sales have been rising steadily as the Swedes have tried to add to their basic health insurance. When a supplementary, exceedingly generous pension system was introduced in 1960, again the expectation was that sales of private insurance would slump. Instead, sales of private life insurance rose 10 per cent in 1960, also have continued climbing.

Incidentally, the development of social security in the U. S. has had a similar effect. Year after year our private insurance sales have jumped to record totals as millions of us have attempted to build our own old-age protection on top of our basic social security benefits.

Q.: What about the rate of cash and other savings?

A.: The answer here is not so clear. It could be that the extension of welfare measures here because of their cost, incursions just don't stand up under objective analysis.

services and less inclined to The statistics show, though, that savings in forms other than insurance have risen from less than 4 per cent of after-tax personal incomes in 1959 to more than 8 per cent now.

Q.: What about the rates of suicide, a major problem of alcoholism, a disturbing rate of children born out of wedlock? But I could find no evidence that the problems are due to the fact that her people have security against joblessness, catastrophic illness, poverty, etc. More likely reasons could be the emotional frustrations of her long, hard winters, of her crowded cities and isolated rural areas.

You well may bitterly oppose extension of welfare measures here because of their cost, incursions just don't stand up under objective analysis.

Bear Creek Man Bound Over on Forgery Counts

WAUPACA — Arnold M. Clauson, 42, route 1, Bear Creek, has been bound over to County Court on two counts of forgery. He appeared Tuesday before Municipal Justice George Whalen.

Clauson is charged with cashing two allegedly forged checks, one for $10 and another for $30. The checks were cashed in Manawa and Royalton Sept. 22.

A charge of forgery is not within the jurisdiction of the Municipal Justice Court and Clauson did not enter a plea.

He was released after posting a $500 bond. He also requested a preliminary hearing before appearing in County Court.

Gynecomastia In Male Adolescence

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: Within the last few months my 13-year-old son has developed a lump or swelling in both breasts about the size of a walnut. He says there is no soreness. Since he is a very thin boy, it is even more obvious and embarrassing when he goes swimming or is wearing knit shirts that cling. Should he be examined, or is this just one of the changes he is undergoing at his age?
 Since it is on both sides, it sounds very much like a condition called gynecomastia, or enlarged breast tissue in a male. A recent study of more than 2,000 teen-age boys revealed this to be present to some degree in a little more than one-third. These boys were in that same approximate age bracket. The condition is thought to be related to the hormone imbalance which can take place at puberty. You may want to call it to your doctor's attention, but for your peace of mind, it disappears in one or two years as the boy matures and hits his stride, physiologically speaking, as a male.
 Dear Dr. Molner: Please send me your leaflet on "Vitamins." MRS. F.R.B. I enclose five cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Which vitamins are most beneficial for chronic bronchitis and chronic paranasal sinusitis? This condition, according to doctors, is caused from allergies. MRS. J.P.

 The leaflet is on its way, but there are no special vitamins that affect allergies. Or, for that matter, there are relatively few ailments which are caused by a lack of vitamins. Hence there are relatively few ailments which will be helped by particularly vitamins. Vitamins are necessary for general good health. They are necessary for vigorous health. But they are not a medicine. Dear Dr. Molner: Please help

My six-year-old boy has been destructive and sometimes cruel ever since he was little. He still destroys all his toys, tricycle, everything. He has destroyed a doorframe, trees, and put water in a car and it had to be worked on. He tears up the neighbors' mail, puts our dog in the washer or dryer and even in the garbage can. It's always something every day. I am at my wits' end. Should I be concerned or is he "just a boy"?
 MRS. C.J.
 You decidedly must be concerned. This is not normal "boy" behavior. I have seen youngsters like this who ended up behind bars because their actions were dismissed as "boys will be boys."
 This boy is rebelling against something about this condition. Note to "Confidential": Your troubles are far in excess of the annoying but natural problems of menopause. The extreme crying spells and thoughts of self-destruction don't fit with that. But they do sound like a psychological depression, which can't be solved by mere sedatives or tranquilizers. Go to a psychiatrist, because this sort of problem, frightening and dangerous, can be solved by some of the newer drugs, and guidance and advice.

Colt Success Results From Hitting Harder

Cards' Johnson Says Baltimore Gave 110 Per Cent

BATLIMORE (AP) — What's the success secret of the Baltimore Colts is the top question around the National Football League. The answer in a nutshell seems simple. Hit harder. That doesn't sound like much of an explanation until you probe a little deeper. Perhaps Charley Johnson, quarterback for the St. Louis Cardinals, clarified it best after the Colts gave the Cards their first defeat Monday night, by a 47-27 score that might have been worse. "We gave a 100 per cent effort out there," said Johnson. "But a 100 per cent effort is just not good enough to win in this league."

110 Per Cent

"The Colts proved that. They were giving it at least a 110 per cent effort."

Bobby Boyd, defensive halfback for the Colts, confirmed the attitude. "We just wanted to out tackle and out block them," Boyd said. "We wanted to hit people and did."

That word "hit" kept popping up from both sides.

"Did you notice how the game was running out there?" Coach Turn to Page 2, Col. 1

Bruhn Has Praise for His Secondary

Frain Returns to Action; Silvestri Back on Offense

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin football coach M. Bruhn has been cheering about after the win of Notre Dame and Purdue, but he thinks the Badgers' secondary has developed and is in time.

It was a winner of three straight games (Camp Randall Stadium Saturday and the Badgers expect to see plenty of passing by Hawkeye aerial ace Gary Snook.

Bruhn praised his secondary deers Tuesday for their efforts in allowing Purdue only four completions in 17 overhead attempts. The performance wasn't enough, however, as the Boilermakers pounded out a 28-7 victory.

Bruhn said the development of his secondary "couldn't be more timely" as the undefeated Hawkeyes, triggered by Snook, rank as the nation's No. 3 in passing offense with an average of 236.7 yards per game. Only Tulsa, with 260.3, and Baylor, with 247.3, rate higher.

Has Proven Self

The Badgers plan to call upon rookie Jim Gruzinski, who has proven himself as a defensive halfback, safetyman Dave Fronek and co-captain Ron Frain in their bid to break up Snook's passes. Frain, normally a safetyman, was injured in the Notre Dame game three weeks ago. Healthy again, he will replace Carl Silvestri at defensive halfback.

Frain's return will enable Silvestri to concentrate on his play as a running halfback. "That's about fifty seconds faster than I ever ran the 10,000," said Frain. "I thought I could do it. I thought I could run that fast." He also caught thought I could run that fast, up one pass for 26 yards, setting the record for 34 yards.

Only 13 Points

The Truckers and Bluejays have limited opponents to 13 points, an average of just over three per game. Neither boasts an overwhelming offensive attack.

Menasha relies on the rushing attack with halfbacks Dick Sorenson and Greg Metzko, fullback Tom Woodrow and quarterback Bob Suca. Ends Dick Slattery and Don Steffin, center Morry Quick and guard Rod Richter motivate the offensive line.

The Truckers' offense is patterned along the lines of Menasha's Don Thompson and Kurt Helm are joined in the backfield with Terry and Jeff on Dick Tom Richardson calls the Truckers signals.

The line is led by veteran center Dar Hed'ke.

Both offenses, however, may reach the exploding point Saturday. The Truckers were held to a scoreless tie by Kimberly and Menasha suffered a 6-0 setback at the hands of Kaukauna in their last outing.

The 5-way cluster for the individual scoring race ended last weekend. Neenah's Mike Miliken, with two touchdowns against Shawano in a 48-6 rout, holds the undisputed lead with 30 points on five TDs. Teammate Hawkkey, triggered by Snook, ranks as the nation's No. 3 in passing offense with an average of 236.7 yards per game. Only Tulsa, with 260.3, and Baylor, with 247.3, rate higher.

U. S. Cagers Win, 83-28, Over Uruguay

TOKYO (AP) — The United States never beaten in Olympic basketball competition, but on 19 of its first 26 field goal attempts and stormed over little Uruguay 83-28 Wednesday.

"Not bad," admitted Coach Henry Iba. "Not bad at all."

The victory was the fourth straight for the U. S. in the current Tokyo Games, and 42nd since the sport was made a part of the Olympics in 1936.

Russia, however, expected to be the top challenger, kept pace in first round activity with an 83-63 triumph over Puerto Rico, the Soviets' fourth without loss.

Joe Caldwell, Arizona State, led all scorers with 16 points, while Jim Barnes of Texas Western and Princeton's Bill Bradley each had 12.

The U. S. ran up a 50-point first half, then coasted in. The starting unit of Bradley, Caldwell, Lucious Jackson, Pan American University, Jerry Shipp, Bartlesville, Okla., and Walt Hazzard, UCLA, did not play in the second half.

The U. S. team is not scheduled Thursday.

TOKYO (AP) — Grady Billy Mills, a Marine from Coffeyville, Kan., won the 10,000-meter run Wednesday in one of the greatest upsets in Olympic history while American swimmers and divers continued to dominate their sport and pushed the leading Yankee medal harvest to 19.

Mills, a 26-year-old crew-cut Marine lieutenant, was timed in an Olympic record 28:24.4 after pulling away from world record holder Ron Clarke and one of the finest 10,000-meter fields ever assembled.

His victory was the first ever at that distance for the United States. It helped build the U. S. medal count to seven gold, seven silver and five bronze. Russia has eight — two gold, three silver and three bronze.

Other U. S. gold medal winners on this fourth day of the 18th Olympiad were:

1. Ken Sitzberger, River Forest, Ill., who won the springboard diving with a total of 159.9 points and led a 1-2-3 American medal sweep. Frank Gorman, New York City, was second with 157.63 and Larry Andreason, Los Alamitos, Calif., third in 143.77.

2. Cathy Ferguson, Burbank, Calif., who took the women's 100-meter backstroke in world record time of 1:07.7. Ginny Duenkel, West Orange, N.J., was third in 1:08.0.

3. Dick Roth, Atherton, Calif., who won the men's 400-meter individual medley in world record time of 4:45.4. Roy Saari, El Segundo, Calif., was second in 4:47.1 and Carl Robin, Drexel Hill, Pa., fourth.

4. The U. S. 400-meter freestyle relay team, also in world record time of 3:33.2. The team was made up of Steve Clark, Los Altos, Calif., Mike Austin, Rochester, N.Y., Gary Liman, San Jose, Calif., and Don Scholander, Lake Oswego, Ore.

Places Third

Mills, considered far out of his class against one of the finest 10,000-meter fields ever assembled, stayed with the leaders all the way, took the lead to stay on the 20th lap of the six-mile plus test of courage and endurance, then sprinted home, winning by about four yards.

In the vast confusion surrounding the finish, Clarke, the 1. Ken Sitzberger, River Forest, Ill., who won the springboard diving with a total of 159.9 points and led a 1-2-3 American medal sweep. Frank Gorman, New York City, was second with 157.63 and Larry Andreason, Los Alamitos, Calif., third in 143.77.

Colts' Momentum, Injuries, Major Problems for Bays

Thurston Changes Positions With Grimm Due to Shoulder

GREEN BAY — The Packers are confronted with two problems — 1. The Colts' momentum and 2. Injuries.

Baltimore has won four straight.

Coach Vince Lombardi noted: "We've got to overcome their momentum. We gave it to them."

He referred to the Bays' 21-20 loss to the Baltimore here Sept. 20 when his charges blew three good chances to win in the fourth quarter. The Colts went on to whip the Rams 35-20, the Bears 52-0, and the Cardinals 17-7.

Injury Cases

Four major injury cases loom — Fuzzy Thurston, who hurt his shoulder; Paul Hornung, also a shoulder; Hank Jordan, groin pull; and Herb Adderley, muscle pull.

It's too early to say who will or won't be ready for the Col. game. But being fierce competitors, it will take a lot of hurtling to keep the four out of the game.

Lombardi noted, after a review of the 49er game pictures, that he had our best blocking day of the season. We moved the ball well but fizzled out a couple of times. We could have won on a larger score. We lost three points on those missed field goals.

Field Goal Kicking

And that brought up the subject of their goal kicking. Hornung missed from the 16 and 25-yard lines and Willie Wood one from the 33.

"We're hurting, you know," Vince reminded. "We started with two good kickers and now both are hurt. There's no way I can protect myself on that."

Hornung started as the Bays' chief point kicker and Jerry Kramer as his relief. Then, Jerry was lost and Wood stepped into his kicking spot. Hornung pulled a groin muscle two weeks ago.

Winneconne To Clash With Wrightstown

Freedom Duels Hilbert Friday In Little Nine

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE

Winneconne	3	0	1
Freedom	4	1	0
Reedsville	4	1	0
Wrightstown	5	1	1
Hilbert	2	2	0
Denmark	1	2	1
Omro	1	2	1
Hortonville	0	4	0
Shiocton	0	5	0

Thursday's Games:
Omro at Denmark
Hortonville at Shiocton.

Friday's Games:
Freedom at Hilbert
Winneconne at Wrightstown.
Reedsville at Stockbridge non-conf.

The wide-open Little Nine Conference football race will advance nearer its showdown phase with two key Friday games.

First - place Winneconne meets fourth - place Wrightstown in the headliner. Co-runnerup Freedom takes on a dangerous Hilbert team, which is currently fifth.

The week's program begins with a pair of Thursday night tussles. Omro at Denmark and Hortonville at Shiocton. Co-runnerup Reedsville plays out of the conference, at Stockbridge, Friday.

Winneconne, with only a 6 - 6 tie against Omro to mar its league record, holds the lead by a matter of percentage points. Freedom and Reedsville, at 4-1, are right behind. Wrightstown is still in the thick of it with a 3-1-1 record. Hilbert, at 2 - 2, cannot be counted out.

Wrightstown, which spilled Reedsville from the unbeaten ranks last Saturday, has lost only to Freedom and was tied by Denmark. The Tigers will have the home-field advantage against the first-place Wolves Friday.

Freedom has chalked up four straight wins since bowing, 26-17, to Winneconne in its opener. A win for home - standing Hilbert is a must if it is to remain in title contention.

Denmark and Omro, the co-deciding champions, will stage a battle of survival, as far as their '64 title chances are concerned.

Both have 1-2-1 records and another loss would drop the victim out of contention.

Hortonville and Shiocton will both seek to crash the victory column in their duel on the Chiefs' field.

Colt Success Secret Is to Hit Harder

Don Snula of the Colts Sept. 4 in King interviews.

We figured they were coming after us right at the start. So we went in with the idea of nipping hard and quick."

Lemmy Agrees
Coach Wally Lemmy of the Cardinals agreed it worked. "They outfought us in the first half in offensive and defensive line charges," he said.

"That's what they pay you for, to hit people," said Steve Stonebreaker, Colt linebacker. "There are plenty of guys on our club hitting."

Bobby Joe Conrad, Cardinal flanker back, attested to the Colt urge.

After catching a pass in the first quarter, Conrad related "Boyd hit me from the back. Then a second guy (Bill Pelling-ton) hit me and then a third guy (Jerry Logan) and the ball popped up."

Stonebreaker recovered the fumble and it set up the second Colt touchdown.

Just Don't Win
"In football there's just no way you can win without wanting to hit," Boyd expanded on the theme. "You either block or tackle with all the power your body can command or you just don't win."

The Colts may have learned the lesson the hard way. When they lost their first game 34-24 at Minnesota their blocking and tackling came in for severe criticism.

Since then, they have blasted through Green Bay, Chicago, Los Angeles and St. Louis players, just nipping harder.

Hunting at Farm Near Horicon Marsh for Geese Proves Excellent

Most Gunners Fill Bags Early, Despite Thick Fog

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

WAUPUN—Suddenly, silently, from out of the fog he came. The big Canadian honker had his wings set and was dropping into the decoys before we noticed him. A single shot echoed across the alfalfa stubble, there was a thrashing of wings for a few seconds and then all was still.

John Haroski, of Appleton, ran over to where the bird dropped, but the hefty goose was dead before he got there. A load of magnum No. 2's had done the trick and we settled back to wait for a try at our second bird.

Our wait was not for long. There were six decoys to the front of us and another three down along a stretch of standing corn. This writer was paying attention to a small flock to the back of our blind while Haroski was busy with the call seeking to entice the birds our way.

Walking Into Decoys
When I looked back at the decoys I noticed the head of a honker just over a rise in the hill. Believe it or not, the bird was walking into the decoys—a sign to behold that made the both of us stare in disbelief for a few seconds. We fired simultaneously and ran out to retrieve the honker.

Shooting time started at 9 a.m. and here it still was not 10 a.m. and we each had a plump goose—our bag limit for the day.

It all happened Tuesday on the farm of John O'Donovan, just outside of Waupun and close to the confines of the Horicon Marsh.

We left Appleton at 7 a.m. and arrived at the O'Donovan farm about the same time as several Kaukauna hunters. O'Donovan invited us to the farmhouse for a welcome cup of coffee.

A heavy ground fog shrouded the area and opinions varied as to whether this would help or hinder the shooting. O'Donovan said they may sit tight and someone else countered with:

Fel: Makers swept three from AAL, and First English scored a sweep over Troublemakers. Slim Otto's won two of three from Reactors.

Canadiens Open Defense of Title With 3-0 Victory
NEW YORK (AP)— Now that he's solidly entrenched as goalkeeper for the Montreal Canadiens, Charlie Hodge says he's more jittery than ever. "Yes, I'm more nervous than I was last year," the little goalie admitted Tuesday night after blanking the New York Rangers 3-0 as the Canadiens opened defense of their National Hockey League regular season championship. "When I was called up from Quebec early last season after Gump Worsley got hurt, I had nothing to lose and everything to gain. Now it's the other way around. The only way this year could be better than last would be if we won the Stanley Cup."

Mills Wins 10,000-Meter Run for U.S.

Australian world record-holder, was believed to have finished second, but the official results placed him third behind Tunisia's virtually unknown Mohamed Gammoudi.

Gammoudi was timed in 28.24.8, Clarke exactly one second slower.

Mills was considered a rank outsider in the field while the top U.S. hope was little Gerry Lindgren, 18-year-old Spokane, Wash. sensation.

Lindgren, however, was badly hobbled by an ankle he twisted just two days earlier in practice. He competed but finished far back in the pack.

Mills, on the other hand, joined the leaders immediately and stayed there. Through the various maneuvers, he stayed close and held the lead at one time or another five times.

It was on the 20th lap that he went ahead to stay and hustled home to the cheers of nearly 80,000 people in the excellent time of 4:27.1 for the last mile.

There was a delay of some 35 minutes before the results were official and Mills climbed the victory stand—suffly at attention when the U.S. National Anthem was played.

Then the half-Sioux who was born in the Dakotas hugged his pretty blonde wife and said: "I thought I could do it. I thought I could run that fast."

But when the flag went up on the flagpole and they played the anthem, I thought I would cry. I really did."

Mills' amazing performance dominated this fourth day of the 18th Olympiad in which the U.S. pushed an expected number of athletes through a variety of track and swimming heats and trials.

Probably the biggest disappointment came in the javelin where Norway's world record holder, Perje Pedersen, failed to make the finals. The event was won by Pauli Nevala, a world that are suitable for Finn, with a throw of 271 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Gergely Kulcsar of Hungary was second and Yan Lusis of Russia third.

Breaks Record
England's Mary Rand broke the world record with a leap of 22 feet, 2 1/4 inches in winning the women's broad jump. Irna Kirszenstei of Poland was second and Tatyna Schelkanova of Russia, whose record Miss Rand broke, third.

The United States was not expected to place in either event.

Yankee runners, however, placed a maximum complement of three in two other track semifinals, the 100 meters and the 400 meter hurdles.

Bob Hayes, the Florida A&M flash; Trenton Jackson of Rochester, N.Y., and Mel Pender, a stocky Army sergeant from Atlanta, Ga., went through two rounds of 100 meter trials with Hayes, best time through steady drizzle a 10.3, well off his best performance of 10.1.

Rex Cawley, Los Angeles; Billy Hardin, Baton Rouge, La., whose father won the event in the 1936 Games, and Jay Luck, a Yale graduate qualified for the finals in the 400-meter hurdles, with Cawley's time of 50.8 seconds the best among the Americans.

Fails to Qualify
There was a disappointment in the 800 meters, however, where the top U.S. runner, Morgan Groth of Oregon State, suffered a recurrence of a tendon injury and failed to qualify.

Jerry Seibert of Willits, Calif., and Tom Farrell, New York City, made it into the semis.

In swimming trials, the United States put a maximum three into the semis of the women's 100-meter butterfly, the finals of the men's 400-meter freestyle, qualified the women's 400-meter relay team into the finals and pushed Chet Jastremski and Wayne Anderson into the finals of the 20-meter breaststroke.

Magnificent Don Schollander, Lake Oswego, Ore., set an Olympic record of 4:15.8 in leading the 400-meter freestyle qualifiers and 15-year-old Sharon Stouder, Glendora, Calif., set a Games mark of 1:07 flat in the 10-meter butterfly heats.

The U.S. basketball team which has never lost in Olympic competition, racked up an 83-28 rout of little Uruguay, its fourth straight in Tokyo.

Holland won a gold medal in the cycling time trial road race and favored Italy was second.

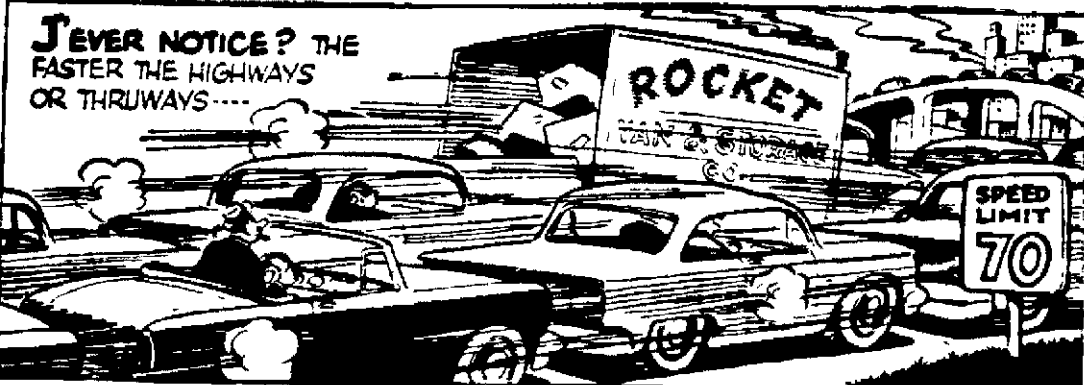

Fred Biesecker Will Head Appleton LL
Fred Biesecker will serve as 1965 president of the Appleton Little League.

Other officers elected at the most recent meeting were: Charles Gibbs, vice president; Roger Tuscan, secretary; Lynn Schwede, treasurer, and Charles Tebo, equipment manager.

Regains His Title

Breedlove Sets Land Speed Mark of 468 mph

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — A jubilant Craig Breedlove has regained the title as the fastest man on wheels and obviously was determined today to keep it as long as possible.

For one thing, the 28-year-old Los Angeles speedster said he would try to improve on his land speed record of 468.72 miles per hour, set Tuesday in his jet-powered car "Spirit of America."

For another, he said he had reserved the track at these western Utah salt flats until Oct. 26 and plans to keep it every minute of that time.

It's possible winter weather could set in by that time, forcing other contenders to wait until next year. The salt flats is one of the few places in the world that are suitable for record speed runs.

Longer Than Others
Even if Breedlove can keep the record for only two weeks, that will be longer than the past two record holders — Art Arons of Akron, Ohio, and Tom Green of Wheaton, Ill., who had the old

Clay Predicts He'll Knock Out Liston in Ninth

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, still as talkative as ever, held a press conference Tuesday and predicted he would knock out Sonny Liston in the ninth round another reservation in for the when they meet in Boston Nov. 16.

Clay said he would beat Liston. "Just like Johnson is gonna beat Goldwater," and said the fight would end in the second minute of the ninth round.

Clay won the title last Feb. 25 at Miami Beach when Liston failed to come out for the seventh round. Before that fight, Clay said he would win in eight.

Clay said Liston would last a little longer in their rematch "because he's in better condition."

Then he added: "But when I get through with him, there won't be any challengers left around for me."

Curling Club Begins Slate In November

Appleton Unit Will Stage 2 Invitational 'Spiels'

The Appleton Curling Club will begin its league schedule Tuesday night, the second week in November. Four sheets of ice will be ready for use the first week in November, at which time the club will be open for the first curling of the 1964-65 season.

Plans for the club's 25th season were made recently by club president Karl Baldwin, first a Yale graduate qualified for the finals in the 400-meter hurdles, with Cawley's time of 50.8 seconds the best among the Americans.

Men's curling will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Saturday mornings. Women's league action is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, Wednesday afternoons and Thursday nights.

Mixed curling will take place Friday evenings and Sunday afternoons.

The club's invitational mixed bonspiel is scheduled for Jan. 28-29, with the invitational men's tourney set for Feb. 26-28.

In addition, a Sunday home-and-home bonspiel will be staged with the Green Bay and Portage clubs.

Howard Brooks Slams 600 Set
Howard Brooks set the pace in the Sabre Lanes' Cocktail Bowling league with a 600 series.

La Vonne Jorgensen posted the lone women's honor score, a 193 line Champagne (6-0) leads the league.

Aggie Davis' 201 solo was the lone honor score in the Alley Cat league at the 41 Bowl.

Kolosso's and Clit's Barber Shop (13-2) share the league lead.

4 Teams Share Lead In 'Y' Boys Bowling
The Bears, the Gophers, the Elks and the Tigers are tied for the lead in the YMCA Boys' Animal Bowling League at Sabre Lanes, with 2-0 records.

The next session is slated for 4:30 p.m. today. In the latest round, George Patterson led series scoring with a 2-game out of 232. Jack Anderson and Bob Miotke were next, with 225 and 222, respectively.

Gary Bichel socked the highest game, a 144, while John Lappen and Patterson had 124s.

OSU Second In AP's Poll

Illini Drop From Top 10; Texas Retains Lead

BY HAL BOCK

That blur that flew past the other teams in The Associated Press' college football poll this week was Illinois but the flight was a bumpy one and worse than that, it was in the wrong direction.

The Illini, ranked No. 2 in last week's AP poll of sports writers and broadcasters, took on fourth-ranked Ohio State last Saturday and came out on the short end of a 26-0 score.

Still Top Poll

The impressive victory moved the Buckeyes into the No. 2 slot notch to No. 8, and newcomers and dropped Illinois right out of the Top Ten. But the Illini slide State rounded out the Top Ten. Florida State reached No. 10 off the poll; wasn't a lonely one Kentucky and Michigan State, Wednesday, October 14, 1964 Appletton Post-Crescent D5 both thumped on Saturday, also dipped out of sight.

Texas continued to top the poll with 30 first place votes of the 40 ballots cast and 347 points. Ohio State had seven first place ballots and 344 points in the voting which awards 10 points for first, nine for second, etc.

Alabama, with two first place votes, and Notre Dame, with one, were third and fourth respectively. The Crimson Tide was a bumpy one and worse than that, it was in the wrong direction. The Fighting Irish jumped two notches with a convincing 34-7 victory against the Air Force.

Michigan and Nebraska both moved up two places with the Wolverines jumping to fifth and the Cornhuskers up to No. 6.

Rebounding Syracuse took over No. 7. Arkansas picked up a pass, work the bootleg and roll

Florida State reached No. 10 after blasting Kentucky 48-6.

LSU gained the ninth spot by

Snook Hasn't Hit Potential, Burns Claims

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Jerry Burns of the unbeaten Iowa Hawkeyes says he is waiting for quarterback Gary Snook to reach his full potential.

It must be the most exciting wait in Big Ten football. For a guy who hasn't reached his potential, Snook seems to be doing right well. He has completed 51 out of 96 passes for 704 yards and three touchdowns and has had only two interceptions.

"Snook can drop back and pass, work the bootleg and roll out," Burns said Tuesday. "But he is not up to his potential yet. At times he doesn't throw the ball hard enough and at times he is off balance."

"So far we have had 99 rushes and 99 passes — you can't beat that for balance. We anticipated throwing a lot prior to opening the season and are keeping to that timetable with about 30 to 35 passes a game. But we have to improve our running before we can pose any kind of a consistent threat."

Henry Wilz Leads League With 561 Set

High totals in the TV Spare-makers Mixed League at Sabre Lanes included Henry Wilz's 561 set and a 560 by Bud Wegner. Wagon Train leads with a 6-0 record.

American Motors, UAW Near Settling Most Big Issues

But Question of Profit-Sharing
Program Still Is Unanswered

DETROIT (AP) — Moving American Motors department toward a strike deadline less chief, said: "We think it is still than 48 hours away, American alive. We'll know by Thursday Motors Corp. and the United midnight."

Auto Workers had reached Big Three Economic settlements parallel today on major economic is- Economic settlements parallel those in national contracts already reached by the UAW with the automotive big three — were poles apart. That is: Will General Motors, Ford and their new contract carry for Chrysler.

But on the No. 1 question they the auto industry's only AMC says the union is demanding the same money package it got from the big three plus profit sharing. It also says and got profit sharing in 1961, the union is unwilling to gamble told newsmen he feels "profit possible wage gains in event of sharing is still dead" so far as a profitless year.

While conceding AMC work- ers would get more than others in high profit years, the union says it is willing to risk losing a new week's vacation and two added holidays in a poor year. It estimated this would amount of company costs to what it ago when the Democrats took agreed to forego in 1961 if profits were nonexistent.

Midnight Thursday The UAW has threatened to call out its 25,000 AMC produc- tion workers at midnight Thurs- day if there is no new national treasury besides.

It was the Republican presi- dential nominee's second cam- paign appearance in Wisconsin, signifying the importance at- tached to the Midwest by the GOP high command.

State is Heartland By Republican logistical cal- culations the Midwest is indis- pensable. Wisconsin probably is its heartland. If Sen. Goldwater, cannot carry Wisconsin, he probably cannot hope to win the central part of the country or hope to overtake the ap- parent lead of President Johnson in the struggle for votes.

Thus far, Wisconsin Republi- can members have been uneasy and un- certain, worrying about polls and other evidence suggesting that Johnson may be the first Democratic presidential candi- date to win the state.

Truman Hurt When He Slips In Bathtub

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman had planned to hold a news conference today, but instead the 80-year-old former president was in Research Hospital nursing two cracked ribs and a banged-up right eye.

He fell into a bathtub Tues- day at the big old Truman home in near- by Independence. He told Dr. Wallace Graham, his physi- cian since he went to the White House in 1945, that the bath mat slipped as he was getting ready to bathe.

A severe cut over his right eye required stitches. His glass- es shattered and sliced his right eyelid in several places. He had bruises on the right eyebrow and forehead.

After an ambulance trip to the hospital, some patching in the emergency room and X-rays, Truman was pronounced in satisfactory condition.

Milwaukee Rally
Gives Needed Spark

MILWAUKEE — The high- spirited rally here last night for Sen. Barry Goldwater has provided the spark needed by the Wisconsin Republican Par- ty's campaign for a restoration of the power it lost six years ago when the Democrats took over the State Capitol.

The huge turn-out showed more enthusiasm than any poli- tical meeting thus far in the state this year and refueled the hard-pressed state Republica- n day if there is no new national treasury besides.

MILWAUKEE — The Ameri- can government used to belong of conformity or else, said Gold- to the people, and "we say that water, and "we should make Nov. 3 the people can get it sure that this kind of fascist back."

Sen. Barry Goldwater used this theme Tuesday night as he bore down on view that the objective of the Republican campaign is "stop the spread of socialism at home and commu- nism abroad." Goldwater spoke to a cheering, chanting, sign- waving rally of about 11,000 in the Milwaukee arena with an- other 5,500 watching on closed- circuit television in the adjoin- ing Milwaukee Auditorium.

More than 20 times, the Re- publicans interrupted Goldwa- ter's speech with cheering and chanting of "We want Barry," though the senator's message was not unfamiliar.

For good measure, Goldwater added at the conclusion of his prepared text a charge that the Democratic Party was "A fas- cist organization and one which was approaching 'absolutism and monarchy.'"

GOP Ticket Goldwater used this language while giving the routine endorse- ment of the state GOP ticket at the end of his speech. He said he wanted to say a special word about Milwaukee Ald. Robert Dwyer, who endorsed Goldwa- ter and was kicked out of the date for U.S. Senator from New Democratic Party as a result. Mississippi Gov. Paul B. Johnson complained that news media have distorted his state's image. He said Mississippi is progressive, hospitable and has a low crime rate despite out- state charges that it is a lawless state.

Texas Gov. John Connally, Florida Gov. Farris Bryant, and Johnson said earlier that Gold- water's southern support is dwindling.

Connally said he understood President Johnson is trailing in Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida, but gaining strength every day.

Bryant said he believes Flori- da will go Democratic.

State's Rights In a round table discussion of governors' problems, Alabama Gov. George Wallace said states rights are in danger of complete destruction from federal domi- nation. "I think we ought to overcome this inferiority com- plex the states have," Wallace said.

Mississippi Gov. Paul B. Johnson complained that news media have distorted his state's image. He said Mississippi is progressive, hospitable and has a low crime rate despite out- state charges that it is a lawless state.

Texas Gov. John Connally, Florida Gov. Farris Bryant, and Johnson said earlier that Gold- water's southern support is dwindling.

Connally said he understood President Johnson is trailing in Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida, but gaining strength every day.

Bryant said he believes Flori- da will go Democratic.

Truman Hurt When He Slips In Bathtub

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman had planned to hold a news conference today, but instead the 80-year-old former president was in Research Hospital nursing two cracked ribs and a banged-up right eye.

He fell into a bathtub Tues- day at the big old Truman home in near- by Independence. He told Dr. Wallace Graham, his physi- cian since he went to the White House in 1945, that the bath mat slipped as he was getting ready to bathe.

A severe cut over his right eye required stitches. His glass- es shattered and sliced his right eyelid in several places. He had bruises on the right eyebrow and forehead.

After an ambulance trip to the hospital, some patching in the emergency room and X-rays, Truman was pronounced in satisfactory condition.

Chilton Teacher Named Editor

Heads State Retarded Children Council's Monthly Publication

CHILTON — William Roewer, 316 N. Madison St., Chilton, has been appointed editor of the Dairyland Retarded, a monthly publication of the Wisconsin Council for Retarded Children.

Roewer, a Calumet County special class teacher, will edit the monthly newsletter which is sent to 2,500 members of the organization.

The Calumet County Association for Retarded Children is supported by United Fund contributions. The special classes are financed by Calumet County and state funds.

In addition to the newsletter, the local chapter sends children to special camps, purchases classroom equipment and aids in research. The state group provided 15 scholarships this summer to train teachers in the special class program.

Calumet County has three special classes. One taught by Roewer, another taught by Mrs. Rosemary Fox at the Twa in School; and a third taught by Mrs. Roewer at Forst Junction.

Officers of the county group are Mrs. C. C. Supita, New Holstein, president; Mrs. Oscar Conrad, New Holstein, vice president; Mrs. Leo Voigt, route 4, Chilton, secretary, and Mrs. Glen Flemming, Chilton, treasurer.

CHILTON — The league leading Chilton Tigers will be seeking their sixth consecutive Eastern Wisconsin Conference victory when they play the 1964 homecoming game.

Chilton, last week extended its win streak to 13 games, eight last year and five this year, by downing the Valder Vikings, 26-6.

Halfbacks Don McHugh and Dave Schaefer blasted the Viking defense with their hard running. End Al Whitby, a 1963 all-conference pick, was a standout on defense for the Tigers.

The Tigers racked up a total of 322 yards and 13 first downs in rolling over the Vikings.

Brillion, last week upsetting the Kiel Raiders, 7-0, behind the scoring of halfback Jim Ross, will play host this week to Valders.

Ross connects with end Lee Haberman on a 19-yard aerial play in the second quarter to give the Lions the only score of the game and their first win of the season against four losses.

In a first-place tie with the Chilton Tigers, Plymouth Fri-to-day night will take on the Kohler Blue Bombers who are 1-3-1 in league play.

Last week Mrs. Arnold Dretke, route 2, against Elkhart Lake Panther Manawa.

quarterback, Jim Plotz, scored 13 points and threw a pass for the other six, while the Panthers defeated the Resorters, 19-0.

In other league action the Elkhart Lake Resorters, (1-4) will play host to Sheboygan Falls, (2-3) and the third place New Holstein Huskies, (4-1) entertain the Kiel Raiders, (2-3).

Scout Leaders Change Meeting Place in Shawano

SHAWANO — North District Valley Council Boy Scout leaders have changed their meeting place to First United Presbyterian Church here at 7:30 p.m.

today, while Scouts will hold their monthly meeting Monday at St. James Lutheran Church. Leaders will discuss the November theme and talk about "How to Plan a Cub Scout Program" and "How to Train Junior Leaders."

At the Boy Scout meeting reports will be given on the swim meet, on conditions of the training camps and on the personnel in Green Bay Oct. 24.

Former Manawa Man To Speak on Missions

MANAWA — The Lutheran Women's Missionary League of St. Pauli Church will have the Rev. and Mrs. James P. Dretke show pictures and lecture on the missionary work in Ghana when the group meets at 8 p.m. Oct. 20, in the church.

The Rev. Mr. Dretke and his family went to Africa in September, 1957, and were first located at Nigeria, where he served 23 congregations. Since 1961, he has been serving in Ghana the season of his first mission work. He founded the Evangelical Church in a first-place tie with the Chilton Tigers, Plymouth Fri-to-day night will take on the Kohler Blue Bombers who are 1-3-1 in league play.

Last week Mrs. Arnold Dretke, route 2, against Elkhart Lake Panther Manawa.

New Officers of the Outagamie Teen-age Safety Council were elected Monday at the county courthouse annex. They are, from left, Mike Mulroy, Hortonville, vice president; William Schoenberger, Freedom, advisor; Charles Meyer, Kimberly, president; Shirley Abutz, Appleton, secretary-treasurer; and Vicki Seidel, Kimberly, corresponding secretary. ACP Signup Centers Open in Waupaca County MANAWA — Sign-up meetings have been scheduled at various Waupaca County Communities today through Friday to provide farmers a chance to request cost-sharing under the 1965 Agricultural Conservation program. The initial sign-up period ends Oct. 31.

Sign-up centers and the townships they are intended to serve are today at Iowa Town Hall, for Scandinavia, Helvetia and Iowa; Marion City Hall, for DuPont and Wyoming; and Weyauwega City Hall, for Royalton and Weyauwega.

On Thursday, farmers from Harrison may sign up at Mae Schmidt's Lunch Room; Manawa City Hall for Little Wolf Union and St. Lawrence; and Fremont Town Hall, for Caladonia and Fremont.

On Friday farmers may sign up at the Waupaca Armory, for Dayton, Lind, Waupaca and Farmington; the Clintonville City Hall, for Matteson, Larra-

County Supervisor Suggest Hospital Land Gift to UW

Land which now is being used for farming at the Outagamie County hospital near U.S. 41 and 10 should be donated to the University of Wisconsin and a four-year college should be built there, a county supervisor has suggested.

Supv. Sylvester Esler, Appleton, said the possibility of taking the suggestion to the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors was discussed last week among supervisor members of the county's property and insurance committee.

Esler said that if the board approved such a move, the suggestion could be promoted by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce "or some other promotional group" and the proposal would be presented to the University of Wisconsin.

Goodacre was arrested by Waupaca city police at the home of his son where he was creating a disturbance.

Democrats to Hear Talk by Sen. Nelson

Darboy Dinner Set Oct. 26 to Finance County Candidates

Sen. Gaylord Nelson will speak at the Outagamie County Democratic Party "Cash for Candidates" dinner Oct. 6 at the Darboy Club.

More than 500 tickets will be offered for sale. The dinner is the county party chapter's major fund-raising event of the campaign. All proceeds will go to finance local candidates' campaigns.

The executive committee of the party chapter also set a combination "Listening Party-Victory Celebration" for election night, Nov. 3, at Appleton Knights of Columbus Club.

The party chapter is planning a campaign caravan Oct. 30. The caravan, carrying all Democratic county office candidates, will assemble at 6 p.m. in the Treasure Island parking lot in Appleton, go to Greenville, Hortonville, New London, Shiocton, Black Creek, Seymour, Kaukauna, Combined Locks, Little Chute, Kimberly and back to Appleton at Valley Fair Shopping Center.

County Chairman Lester Balliet also named election and dinner committee heads. Mrs. Milo Singler, Shiocton; Mrs. Clarence Wundrow, Kimberly; and William Cherkasky, Appleton, were named to an officers' nominating committee.

Goldwater, LBJ Both Plan Talks

Political broadcasts will preempt "Password" on WBAY-TV, Channel 2, at 8 p.m. Thursday President Lyndon B. Johnson will speak from 8 to 8:25 p.m., followed by a five-minute broadcast sponsored by the Republican National Committee, and featuring Senator Goldwater.

CNW to Put Up Signals In Township

MENASHA — The public service commission notified the Menasha Town board Monday evening the Chicago and North Western Railway Co. will install warning signals at the crossing on County Trunk BB off U.S. 41, according to the commission. The commission was petitioned by property owners living east of the right of way who said early morning and evening sun made it impossible to see the current flashing lights. The lights with the back-up reflections of the sun will not have any effect on visibility.

Mrs. Mildred Stroebe asked for an official statement from the board in regard to railroad crossing signals on Stroebe Road and U.S. 41. The board said property owners involved would have to petition the public service commission for signals. Then, the town board could make an official statement.

Waupaca Youth Hear Safety Talk

WAUPACA — A program on driving safety and the safety factors in using seat belts was presented to Waupaca High School driver education students Tuesday by insurance company officials. Entitled "Buckle Up and Live," the program included a series of slides and a talk on the importance of using seat belts when driving. School bus drivers also heard a driving safety talk.

Committee to Study Report On Outagamie

a plan for county board reapportionment."

Two joint resolutions coming from the courts and administration of justice and from the civil service and salary committees received unanimous approval.

One resolution called for raising the pay to $8 for half days and $14 for each full day for grand and petty jurors and for bailiffs in all Outagamie County and circuit courts. The resolution also called for paying 10 cents a mile to these people for all travel each day to and from court.

Annual Salary

The related resolution set a $150 annual salary for jury commissioners. In the past, commissioners had been paid $5 for half days and $8 for full days. The public property and inventory committee received a loan of $10,000 from the general fund to be used for remodeling the portion of the courthouse now housing the welfare department.

The welfare department is to be moved to space in the courthouse annex and the old welfare department space will be used to house Huber Law prisoners who had been kept in the third floor jail.

Scholarship Is Topic Of Legion Auxiliary

CLINTONVILLE — The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Members are reminded to bring gifts for the Christmas gift shop at Wood Hospital.

Topic for October is "Education and Scholarships." The committee consists of Mrs. Lawrence McKay, chairman, Mrs. Murdock McKay, Mrs. Fritz Kroening and Mrs. Ed Mervyn.

The Russian Passenger Satellite

The latest Russian space launching is not as spectacular as their decisive early victory over the United States when Sputnik soared aloft. Nor will it cause as much comment as when the first Russian orbited the earth several months before John Glenn's successful trip. But the lessons to be learned from this passenger ship's orbits may be of great use in the race to the moon.

This time the Russians sent up not only a cosmonaut but a scientist and a physician. The latter undoubtedly went along to observe, diagnose and try to ease or prevent the alarming effects of long periods of weightlessness upon formerly earth-bound creatures. Both Russian and United States space travelers have had problems with low blood pressure, less work for the heart muscles which has resulted in at least temporary weakness, dizziness, blacking out and perhaps a tendency toward problems of the inner ear which at least two Americans and one Russian have experienced.

Once more the Russians have shown a know-how and ability to get ahead of us. Although we have plans to launch two men in one space ship sometime next year and presumably have the rocket power equal to that of the Russians, the new episode should concern us. A landing on the moon is not only a matter of prestige. Some military men have indicated belief that whoever controls the moon and large areas of space through manned space satellites and platforms will have an advantage in trying to subdue the world, if their aims are that, and an ability to withstand those efforts if such control is ours.

Our own moon project continues to be argued as to the value of spending the vast sums of money on something that may only be a spectacular stunt with little advantage to defense or worthy aspects for humanity. Certainly sound decisions should be made before the money is earmarked. But at this point we would not feel very secure if the Soviet Union established an unchallenged outpost on the moon.

There is not the alarm in the United States this time that was so apparent when Sputnik was launched. Space travel is no longer as novel and the extent to which men may so travel is not as startling as the first unheralded trip. The reductions of tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union during this peaceful co-existence phase of the cold war also contribute to our lack of concern. But obviously this is a dangerous attitude. We may be working toward a solution of the Communist-versus-the Free World struggle in the nuclear test ban and more contact between the nations. But this is not at all assured. A firm way of proving good intentions would be for the Russians to make their scientific findings of this trip available to all the world but this is probably far too much to expect.

Goldwater Not the One to Fear; It Should be President Johnson

Editor, Post-Crescent:

David Mayer III certainly suffered a shock if he was as disgruntled to find a "Goldwater" sticker next to his "LBJ" as I was to find some culprit pasted an "LBJ" next to my "Goldwater." What a traumatic experience! Seems that both sides must have their "jokesters," since I doubt that a GOP volunteer would affix such a thing to my bumper.

Mr. Mayer made reference to the fact that his LBJ sticker found its way to his car bumper as a result of using his mind. I'm afraid this implies an impossible situation. He also said, in answer to his daughter's querulous question, "Yes, there really are a few people for whom a rational decision is impossible, people who prefer to leave their monocular policy to the wayward caprices of Mr. Goldwater, etc." Mr. Mayer, you've been used instead of your mind if you really feel Goldwater is the worst of the bunch to watch our atomic trigger finger. President Johnson doesn't want to watch it, and Senator Humphrey is so eager to do away with all our original American concepts that he can't even be considered to watch it. This fear campaign picturing Goldwater as an impulsive triggerman is a fraud, a hoax, and an outright lie, an attempt to make sure the responsibility doesn't fall to an American who will insist it stays in American hands.

At the 16th General Assembly of the United Nations a "Program for General and Complete Disarmament in a Peaceful World" was proposed by the U.S. It was printed and released in 1961 as "Department of State Publication 7277." (Recently removed from public circulation.) In 1962, by Senator Clark of Pennsylvania, on the floor of the U.S. Senate this documented program was described emphatically as representing the "fixed and determined policy of the executive arm of the U.S. Government." It is a program that calls for the gradual transfer of our military might, and presumably other nations, to the Godless, communist dominated United Nations, thereby negating the freedom of the American people to direct their own lives if and when, as holder of the world's power, the United Nations becomes the world's ruler. The first of the three phases of this carefully played down program is well advanced.

The party in power, at this very time, is in the midst of negotiating away our nation's security. They hope to render future Presidents, whomever they are, impotent to protect our country. Mr. Johnson would place our atomic trigger in the hands of two men who are completely irresponsible to our nation's welfare, namely U Thant and his partner-in-crime Vladimir Suslov. U Thant, who says nationalism (patriotism) is a threat to the world, is a Buddhist from Burma. Suslov, second in the chain of command at the U.N.

is an atheistic Russian communist, a publicly sworn enemy of our American freedom. Eight of his nine predecessors in this key post were from the U.S.S.R. . . . Don't get your hopes up! The ninth one was from Yugoslavia. All nice boys. It's just that they hate us to pieces and have pledged to bury us. It's hard to conceive of any American wanting such a situation for themselves on their children.

The question isn't "Is Goldwater or Johnson going to watch our atomic trigger." The question is "Goldwater or U Thant?" "Goldwater or Suslov?" Don't be frightened or misled into thinking anything else.

As a God-fearing Christian, proud of what my country should stand for, and possessive of my freedom as an individual, I must admit I am thankful that a man like Goldwater has been raised up who is courageous and sounds like men used to sound not too many years ago when "patriotism" and "nationalism" (which just mean you love your country) weren't dirty words to be swept under the rug.

A closing thought in response to Mr. Mayer's last paragraph. I am a very successful trout fisherman with dry flies. Unfortunately I sometimes use wets, too, . . . and horror of horrors! I have been known to use garden hackle enough to be proficient with them.

Hopes Vandal Will Return Plaque Honoring Veterans

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The members of Leo Van Roy Post 265, American Legion, Darboy, wish to thank the Post-Crescent for printing the article regarding theft of the Veterans Memorial plaque from the boulder located at the intersection of State Highways 114 and 55 in the Town of Harrison.

Some of us were not around when the memorial was erected, but to me as a boy fishing off Lower Cliff on Lake Winnebago, it was a place to rest on the way to and from a day's fishing. By some person's act of vandalism, I have come to finally know what was on the intersection, and as a veteran, have come to realize what it meant. I personally believe all persons who will read this letter, be he a veteran or not, will think the person who did such a foul deed must not have read what was inscribed on the plaque.

In our way of life today, we honor not only people of old age, but to some with outstanding accomplishments we give a place of honor. The World War I veteran should have a place of honor. To him we owe just about everything we have. Every year on Veterans Day, the American Legion honors these men. The person who removed the plaque from the monument to these men was not honoring them, he was degrading them.

With this letter printed in a place of notice in your paper, I hope and pray that some evening the person responsible for this act will drive by and leave the plaque laying by the stone. I myself will drive by once in awhile to see if the person has realized what he has done and returned the plaque.

No Immediate Action Likely on Four-Year Term for Governors

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—As far as the public record shows, the question of a four-year term for the office of governor has been removed from the realm of political debate. Two years ago both of the nominees for governor endorsed the idea. This year Gov. Reynolds and Warren Knowles, opposing candidates for the office, have agreed again and both political party platforms endorse an extension of tenure for the state executive from the traditional two-year term. It might therefore be assumed that legislation will soon be approved for the four-year term, after the precedent of a majority of the states of the country and according to the recommendations of most of the political scientists who have considered the question.

Yet that would be a rash assumption. To date the legislature has been reluctant to endorse the idea—although such a proposition remains technically alive for the Nov. 9 recessed session. That legislative indifference, or reserve, or hostility reflects the convention of the average lawmaker that the public is not yet ready for the change and would likely vote it down if it was submitted in a constitutional amendment referendum.

That legislative indifference, or reserve, or hostility reflects the convention of the average lawmaker that the public is not yet ready for the change and would likely vote it down if it was submitted in a constitutional amendment referendum.

PROBABLY RIGHT

That judgment is probably accurate enough. There is yet very little proof that the public would respond favorably to a longer term for the most important public official in the state.

A part of it is probably explained by the traditional reluctance in Wisconsin to strengthen the position of the executive. The Wisconsin governor is a "weak executive," in the sense that the constitution and the laws, supported by tradition, carefully circumscribe his personal powers and privileges. Almost every man who has won the governorship during this reporter's time in Madison has been disappointed and frustrated by the limitations on his authority to act. The governor's principal opportunity is not to go, but to persuade, to lead, to propagandize, in the hope that his initiative will bring an approving response from the legislature or from the people.

Nor is the argument for the four-year term, however persuasive, irrefutable. It is true that the governor is handicapped by the brevity of his tenure under the present system and the fact that he must turn to the campaign trail almost before he has had an opportunity to settle down into his chair and to work out a program.

CONTRARY. . . . But it is also true that the short term provides the opportunity to reject an unsatisfactory governor and that it prevents a drastic change in policy direction at Madison without popular consent and ratification.

There are institutional objections to longer tenure for the governor that involve some public interest, in the sense that they involve the interests of the political parties. The contests for governor now help the legislative candidates of each party in the biennial elections, as they help the candidates of both parties for the county government places. Most political observers would guess that the four-year executive term won't come without a simultaneous extension of the terms of assemblymen from two years to four years to give them the same status as state senators. The tenure question, based on largely theoretical considerations, is the kind of issue that is best settled in a constitutional convention method of constitutional revision. The record thus far shows a considerable reserve among the people on the issue of giving their leaders more powers or privileges. The repeated defeat of repeal of the sheriff tenure limitation is one of the best indications of the electoral mood.

Any Suggestions for Naming Harris' Boat?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Much against my better judgment, and despite my quivering fear of the water (I get slightly hysterical under the shower), we bought a little powerboat late this summer, and have had a lot of fun thinking of a name for it.

One of the nicest touches of God's diffidence in the Bible is allowing Adam to name all the animals in Eden. Men love to name things, as a way of humanizing them; and even a boat becomes more of a personality when it has a name rather than merely a registration number.

Looking at the names of boats in the harbor this summer, one was struck by the lack of imagination in most of them. A few were apt and witty; most were nautical clichés or, at the other extreme, too coy for words. The art of naming is not a talent that is widely spread around.

I remember hearing years ago of a plumbing contractor who got rich during the war and bought an enormous yacht from some impoverished dual family in Europe. With a fine flair for self-laughter, he named his ship "Royal Flush."

And a noted bridge champion bought a boat that turned out to be fast and hard-pounding; after the first turbulent trip, he promptly christened it "Cross Ruff," which gave all bridge players a chuckle.

Occupational puns have provided some amusing names, named his craft, "Off Call"; an infantry officer named his "At Ease"; and an orchestra leader dubbed his boat, "Take V." My favorite, however, is the fatigued obstetrician who named his sailboat "Impregnable."

Equally deft is the name a college algebra teacher gave to this sloop: "Aftermath." And I once heard about a man named John something-or-other who spent so much time working on the used yawl he had just bought that his neglected mate insisted he call it "John's Other Wife."

"In" jokes are funny, of course, only to a limited audience. I was told of a Jewish man on Long Island Sound who named his cruiser, "S. S. Mein Kinned." Also with an ethnic flavor is the name given to a cutter owned by a garment manufacturer — "Sam," because so many cutters in the garment industry are named Sam.

A symphony conductor named his racing schooner "Allegro." When it limped in last in three races, he rechristened it "Andante." And a felicitous name can be parlayed on a big ship with a dinghy, the sloop "Wisp" has a dinghy named "Whisper," while the toghish owner of the cruiser "Missress," calls us dinghy "Love Child."

Any suggestions for mine?

Potomac Fever— by Jack Wilson

New tests show that criminals in prison are stupid. Sure, if you just test the ones who got caught. How about those who got elected?

Sen. Goldwater says he'll send Gen. Eisenhower to Viet Nam after the election. Or, if Ike keeps on talking, possibly sooner.

Lady Bird goes whistle-stopping, but Lynda comes back after one day. Daddy figures a bird in the home is worth two on the stump.

Now Barry wants an investigation of Cuba. There's a nasty rumor that it's not 90 miles away any more.

President Johnson is at a disadvantage going after southern votes. He signed the civil rights bill, he quit smoking, and he has never shaved with peanut butter.

Crescent Exposes Math Teacher

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 22, 1864.

In this community, where the author of the remarkable letter (to the ladies of New Bedford, Mass., offering his services as a war recruit) is so well known its mere publication is a sufficient exposure to overwhelm him with merited and universal contempt.

But a brief explanation will certainly undeceive "the 27 ladies" and all other persons as to the truth of his statements and the depth of his patriotism.

First, we will note a few of the most important of "inaccuracies." It will be observed that while he makes no positive statement to that effect, he is careful to convey the impression that he was in debt $1,000 on the 16th of August last, for money to procure an education!

Now this is false. It is questionable whether he owes a dollar, for any such purpose or for his support. Some years ago, he engaged in land speculation. As to his salary as "adjunct Professor of Mathematics in Lawrence University," it was sufficient to support a family respectably. If the salary was small, it was large enough to induce him to hang onto it as long as he could!

"I am an ordained minister!" This will be news in these ends of the earth. To be plain, it is an unequivocal falsehood! He, like many other conceited young men possessed of brass but destitute of brains, has been licensed—not ordained — to preach!

Whether this was done because he used the most vulgar language and sensual comparisons as teacher or preacher of any man yet officiating in either capacity in this city; or whether it was because he was a bigoted, mouthing, brawling, falsifying, one-idea abolitionist if the incendiary stripe; or a blatant, brow-beating advocate of the War, while at the same time he would refuse to enlist, refuse to go as a substitute, and take special pains to elude the draft, and save his carcass from any personal service in the army, let others decide.
